scientists in GOPU put forward the theory that somehow the mineral deposits in the mountains made it possible for the aliens to establish telepathic contact with earthlings more easily than otherwise would be possible.

This time the GOPU came very well equipped with portable radios, tape recorders and a special device which could detect any magnetic force fields around the camp. Roberto Santos, the physics professor, who is very knowledgeable in electronics strung up a system of red and blue lights which he said would blink on and off at a set frequency.

Aurelio Zaluar, a reporter, who covered the GOPU investigation, filed this report with the paper EL MUNDO: "I decided to stay near the equipment, a rather short distance from the top of a rock where the others had gone.

Visibility was rather poor being that it was cold and drizzling. Dark clouds obscured the sky. We had been at this locale close to a day when suddenly the magnetic meter that had been strung up began to beep. At that same instant our walkie-talkie came alive. On the other end was Vanderlei Penna, a lawyer and a long time member of the GOPU. He suggested that we climb to the area of the rock where other members of the group were experiencing 'strange things.' Immediately, I started out from the camp with a companion. We had been told to take a certain short cut but decided against this route because it took us through a thicket full of spiders and perhaps even snakes. It was dark and raining and all we had to light our way was a flashlight which soon went out anyway.

"When we reached the summit, we called out and Vanderlei Penna came forward warning us to keep our voices down. His outstretched finger pointed toward the shadowy figure of another member of the group. Luis Otavio de Silva Carvalho, a young lawyer, stood motionless with his hands clasped over his ears. He was heard to cry out and plead in anguish, 'Don't speak, don't make any noise, my head can't stand any more.'

"As we stood there in total amazement an unknown aerial object was seen about 500 meters over the mountains. In front of our very eyes it stopped over what is known as 'Warm Water Falls,' a waterfall that remains warm even in the middle of winter.

"Luis was still acting up and we were told to join hands and think peaceful thoughts so that the spell over him could be broken. All at once he fell to the ground and we picked him up. Soon he regained consciousness and was anxious to know what all the fuss was about. We explained the situation to him and little by little he seemed to understand, complaining of a bad headache.

"After a drink of water back at the camp his head cleared further and he told us what he alone had seen. Luis was standing near some of the equipment when he saw a glowing figure materializing in front of him. It was about

Revelations of Things to Come

Earlyne C. Chaney

Would you like some startling answers to these questions—questions channeled from unseen teachers through one of today's renowned mystics?

- What is the future through the year 2000 and beyond?
- Will there be a war or a new world?
- Do we face Doomsday or the Coming of the Light?
- Is the feminine principle—the Mother Madonna—the voice of the future?
- Have the spacegods returned?
- Are there inner earth people?
- When can we expect the Second Coming of the Christ?
- Are there Great Souls lying in suspended animation as "sleepers" to be reawakened at the Second Coming or when the spacegods land?
- Is there protection during the coming changes—where and how?

Egyptian Initiation

Witness through the eyes of Earlyne C. Chaney, during a solitary vigil in the Great Pyramid, how the vision of Isis was transmuted into one of the Virgin Mary. Share the modern day prophecies given her during this psychic event.

Cosmic Judgment Day

Will the divine alchemy of earth's original nature withstand the pollution man is casting upon her? Are darkness and devastation to be humanity's final karma? Or is there truly to be a dawning which heralds the light of a new day, a new age?

War or Peace?

Will World War III occur to wreak havoc among the people of earth? Can it be avoided? If so, how?

The Madonna

Are you fully aware of the emerging feminine polarity in the world? Is a rosary a universal implement of spiritual attunement or simply a string of beads? Do the appearances of Mary at Lourdes, Fatima, and other hallowed areas, and the prophecies she gave, have significance today?

Have the Spacegods Returned?

Have spacepeople returned? Are they here to prevent war?—A pole shift?—For a great lift-off?

THE BIZARRE AND HAUNTING UFO EXPERIENCES OF MARC GOULD

BY CASPER
MCCLLOUD

Over the years, I've had the opportunity to meet some pretty peculiar individuals, but none have proven to be so strange as Marc Gould. And while "repeaters" - those who have prolonged contact with the occupants of UFOs - are more and more frequent these days, few can boast of having had so many mind blowing experiences as my friend.

But let Marc tell in his own words his first exposure to other-worldly craft which took place on his birthday several years ago.

"I was living in Woodside, Calif. which is basically the top of the Santa Cruz mountains. I was living in a cabin, and there were no neighbors - it was totally secluded.

"It was August 27, 1976 and a friend had come to visit me so that Suddenly, it stopped and just hovered there. It was saucer-shaped and solid. Behind it was this luminous trail of vapor. It didn't have any portholes or anything. We watched it for quite a few minutes and then all of a sudden this white lighted object came down from the center of it. It looked sort of like a star and it seemed just to be hanging there. This second object stood for a while before the original UFO vanished.

"The smaller object seemed to have a hypnotic effect on us. After about five minutes it just faded out. The vapor trail left behind by the larger ship stayed in the sky for an additional twenty minutes before it also vanished."

Marc freely admits that he had a hard time pushing this experience

Trench as a hideout.

"Feeling something in the air, I went off by myself to where these rocks were overlooking the bay and mentally projected an invitation to any craft that were in the area to come and pay us a visit. I didn't really expect anything and so several minutes later I returned to the fire and started talking with a couple of my friends.

"My friend Richard saw it first, a golden white light which came out from the bay and hovered about a mile away. We were all looking at it and feeling very peaceful. It had a certain presence about it. When it got directly overhead the UFO halted without making a sound. We could see the UFO very clearly. It was round and there were portholes all ar-there with my friend Karla, and we were just hanging out looking at the bay. It was a clear night, and I had had this nagging feeling that I should go down there to look for UFOs. Karla had seen them before and was interested in the subject. In fact, I had found that a lot of people in the Santa Cruz area had seen them many times.

"From a mile out in the bay, the same craft came out of the water and hovered there. Then it started coming towards us at the same diagonal as it had the last time.

This time, before it got very far, another one came up from the same spot in the water and followed behind the first one. We were able to watch the two of them cruise up and over into the Santa Cruz Mountain area towards Gilroy which has been a pretty big sighting area since the start of the 1970's."

Marc points out that often the people who were witness to these phenomenal occurrences were into meditation and other new age topics.

"There was a group who used to meditate on a cliff overlooking Monterey Bay. Something would 'take hold' of them and upon opening their eyes they would see a craft."

For a time Marc belonged to a group that was into various forms of spiritual healing. At one particular point two new members entered the group who professed to be in steady contact with aliens.

"They said they were channeling information from a space ship that has been circling the earth for 800 years. They told us that the craft is a sort of scientific outpost. They were able to communicate with the crew of the ship by using a large quartz crystal which acted as a transmitter as well as a receiver."

Marc says the two contactees would have the group follow the same ritual before contact was established. "They first had us meditate on visualizing ourselves - the group of 14 people - inside the crystal. Then one of them commenced the communications. One person, Bob, was the protector of the communications. It was his job to make certain that no negative forces entered into the communications attempt. His partner, Mark, was the speaker for the channel. Once we contacted the ship we were able to talk directly to two aliens whose names were Kon and Zarborg.

"Mainly our line of questioning dealt with healing and the use of certain stones such as quartz crystals. For the most part we concerned ourselves with specific healing situations. We didn't ask them any all-encompassing questions about earthly problems and such. We asked them what kinds of foods they ate and they told us they ate a kind of vegetable type mush. They also told us that for them time doesn't exist the way it does for us. They never got older it seems. 'When your not bound to the gravitational pull of a planet you don't age,' was the way they put it."

To his way of thinking, the research that is taking place in California has become pretty "common place." Marc says that after a while "you don't think much about what's going on." With this in mind, he says he believes the UFOs "are here for a certain purpose which we could celebrate together. Going outside, we walked up to this Christmas tree farm up the road. From there we had a view of San Jose in the valley below us. We were just looking at the view and hanging out. Then from the north, from the direction of San Francisco, we saw this bell-shaped white light cruising at a speed faster than a plane would cruise.

"Since we were used to seeing a lot of planes in this area, we didn't pay it any attention until it got directly in front of where we were sitting on this hillside.

out of his mind. As it turned out he didn't have to wait long before seeing another unusual object in the sky. In fact, the opportunity arose the following year while starting up a fire on the beach at around 1:30 in the morning.

"We were enjoying the warm summer night at a small beach located on the outskirts of Santa Cruz down along Monterey Bay. Later, I discovered that there had been many reports of UFOs from this area. There were even those who felt strongly that these alien craft were using the Monterey ound it.

"We tried to beam a telepathic message to the ship and as if in response the air became filled with electronic sounds. At that point, I could no longer stand up and I fell to my knees. Still looking up at the object it seemed like we were under a spell. Even after the craft had vanished it felt like we were being observed. We didn't feel that we were away from the situation; the craft was still in our consciousness."

Exactly six months later to the day, Marc ventured back to the same beach. "Went back

UFOs CAUSE POWER OUTAGE IN OREGON

UFOs have long been held responsible for blackouts both large and small. Several noted researchers even believe that the massive east coast blackout of 1965 was caused by power draining space ships. Now, as if to add further fuel to the fire, police officers on duty in the town of Coos Bay, Oregon say that they were called upon to investigate the sighting of two large orange disks reportedly traveling at a low altitude and heading northbound, shortly before the lights went out all over town.

Officers Doug Hill and Karl Larsen drove to the area of the docks shortly after midnight on May 27 in response to several calls for assistance. And while they observed no UFOs themselves, just as they were about to head into the station the lights went out all over town. "The timing of the two events leaves me wondering how coincidental they were," officer Hill noted, while his partner commented that he was waiting for his car to go dead at any moment.

The local power and light company admitted the next day that they did not have a ready made explanation for the incident, and thus this case contributes further to the large body of evidence which indicates that UFOs and power outages are often related.

DISASTER ALERT! CALIF. TO SINK —AGAIN?

A New York City astrologer is convinced earthquakes will rock portions of California in December and that London will soon experience flooding. forty-five year old David Negri is a student of the late Alfred Witte, the man Hitler asked to be his personal astrologer because he was so accurate in his forecasts. But Witte turned down the offer because he could see horrible things in the German leader's chart. Witte was also the inventor of Uranian Astrology which takes into consideration the fact that there are three undiscovered planets beyond the planet Pluto which need to be included in any astrological reading if it is to be truly accurate.

David Negri, who came to the U.S. from Lima, Peru ten years ago, has been following the controversial speculation that the near alignment of the planets late in 1982 and early 1983 might have a devastating effect on earth. After extensive research of his own he concluded that such an adverse reaction was not only possible, but highly likely.

"Starting on December

1, all the planets will be aligned in the southern portion of the celestial equator including the unknown planets behind Pluto. The last time this happened 179 years ago there were scattered earthquakes, but back then mankind did not have nuclear weapons. This time, nuclear waste could leak out and poison the water and a few reactors could even fall into the sea."

Negri points out that there has recently been a sudden surge in sun spot activity and that this year there were seven eclipses, something which is very rare. "The last time we experienced seven eclipses was in 1917 at the start of World War I and in 1937 when World War II began to brew in

STRANGE ENCOUNTERS

"ANGEL" THEORY OFFERED BY PILOT WHO COINED TERM "FLYING SAUCER"

On July 24, 1947 civilian pilot Kenneth Arnold was flying near Mt. Rainier when he observed nine objects which he later described as looking like "saucers skipping over water," and thus the term flying saucer came into being (for better or worse).

Over the years Arnold, who once ran for governor of the state of Idaho, has sighted UFOs several additional times. Noting their strange behavior he has long contended that at least some UFOs are other than interplanetary craft. He has theorized that they may actually be living life forms and not nuts and bolts space ships.

Now living in Meridian Idaho, Arnold remains convinced what he saw was real. "It was no optical illusion." Currently, Arnold thinks that UFOs could be a link between the world of the living and the world of spirits. "There might be two worlds connecting the living and the dead. Maybe you continue living when you die. I can't envision myself on the steps of God, playing a harp with a million other souls...Maybe it has something to do with that."

One time Arnold's home was even invaded by UFO beings who he says remained invisible, though he could see the indentations they made while walking on his rug. "Once I saw a UFO which changed its density, so I concluded these things could be something alive rather than machines."

FLOATING HUMANOID SIGHTED IN MICHIGAN

Two frightened boys from Onsted, Michigan are not likely to forget the day they encountered a floating humanoid while playing in the snow in back of their parent's home on Dec. 29, 1981.

The boys had built a snow fort and were inside it when they heard a loud noise. Peeking outside they saw an object with red lights on the bottom and green lights on the top. There was also a series of lights going across its center in a straight row. The boys then left the fort sliding down a hill. At this they were stopped dead in their tracks upon seeing what appeared to be a short person floating over a fence. Thinking that a joke was being played on them they shouted at the figure but it kept on coming toward them.

Both boys were unable to move, though they do not know if this state was caused by their extreme fright or if they were paralyzed by the being.

Finally, the two broke free of their condition and ran for home. As they headed for safety the humanoid followed along only halting when it couldn't maneuver around some trees and had to backtrack, eventually heading up a hill and actually cutting across the path the boys were taking.

At this juncture the story takes an interesting twist. According to their testimony, the being stopped at a fence near the edge of the yard, opened a diamond-shaped, ruby colored part of its face and emitted a moaning sound. With that it spun around like a top and lights shown below and above the oddly shaped form.

Questioned by researcher Ron Westrum, one of the boys said it never touched the ground. He added that its head was extremely small, "like that of a grapefruit," and that it had no legs. Neither could remember any facial features.

One thought its skin might have been green and wrinkled, the other couldn't tell for sure.

The boy who got the best look at the "thing," was almost positive that he saw a "green smog" hovering a short distance from the being and that inside the "smog" was another shape like that of a "gas mask with an elephant's trunk, a hose with lines across it and a round thing at the end."

As might be expected, the parents of both boys refused to believe their "tall tale," though one of their sisters did confirm that they were white and shaking when they first came indoors. One of the boys had repeated nightmares in which he was being attacked by aliens. He insisted on sleeping with a BB gun nearby. The other boy thought he heard strange sounds outside the house and eventually ended up crawling into bed with his parents to ease his fright.

Though no final conclusion can be drawn from their very strange encounter, Ron Westrum does not feel their experience is that far "out of bounds," pointing out that, "we have no problem finding traces left by our visitors. We do have trouble getting scientists to analyze those traces."

DECODING EXPERT CLAIMS RUSSIANS SEND HER INTELLIGENT MESSAGES FROM SPACE

"Russia and America have known for years about the existence of highly advanced extraterrestrial civilizations, and, in fact, have been communicating with them," says Elizabeth Klarer of Johannesburg, South Africa, who was trained as a decoding specialist during World War II. Mrs. Klarer further claims that certain messages which the Soviets have been unable to decipher have been sent to her to be decoded. "It's a continuing process. The Russian Academy of Sciences sends me the messages by registered mail. I've been ill lately so I haven't been very quick to reply to their urgent telexes which reach me from Moscow via Zurich." Elizabeth, who says she has been visited by aliens over the course of the last two decades, maintains that the Russians have already taken some of this information to the U.N. She is convinced that the USSR wants to learn how UFOs function so they can take control of space.

"The powers of the world know, however, that the intervention of this alien civilization is certain in the event of a space war." She also believes that the Russians have developed a "light ray" which makes the atomic bomb obsolete. "They have managed to isolate anti-matter and this will be the basis for the weapon of the future. Elizabeth adds that the aliens are keeping watch on the earth's troubled spots. "This is one of the most closely guarded secrets the governments are keeping from people," she concludes.

Miraculous Talisman Of The Ancients

New age awakening to age old secret

The ancient astronauts lived extraordinary lives, blessed by serenity, longevity and prosperity. These mysterious people built magnificent structures, such as the Pyramids, which are only now beginning to be faintly understood. They were, without doubt, the master stone masons of all time, and the stone they treasured above all others was the natural clear quartz crystal. These people's phenomenal love of crystal for thousands of years shows up over and over in archeological digs and legends. The great crystal of Atlantis, the crystal skull of the Incas, the crystal ball used since the dawn of mankind, as well as the use of crystal as the ancient's most treasured talisman cause us to wonder — what is the secret of crystal? Can it help us today?

Our research has found—

- Crystal emits negative ions and absorbs positive ions, clearing the energy field of the wearer.
- Quartz crystal has a refractory index of 1.55. When worn next to the heart chakra, crystal reflects lesser vibrations, causing evil thoughts to be reflected back to sender.
- Crystal stimulates adrenal function.
- Crystal protects the Vagus nerve.
- Crystal takes in only light, protecting your body from dark forces.
- Crystal elevates the level of consciousness of the wearer.
- Crystal intensifies the mind powers of the wearer.

- Crystal balances the magnetic field of the wearer.
- The crystal is the most perfect geometric structure known to man.

We stand on the dawn of a new age. The secrets of ages past are being unearthed to help those whose awareness is developed enough to understand.

Crystal is used today to power watches and computers. Yesterday it was used to make crystal set radios. Tomorrow, in the golden new age, crystal will take its true place to once again bestow upon mankind the powerful, protective aura of the ancients.

As part of a research program, we are offering you a chance to discover the miraculous power of crystal in your life and lives of your loved ones. Each crystal is capped with 24K gold electroplate and will be sent to you for the low price of $10.95 plus $1.25 postage and handling. We ask that you report to us any extraordinary blessings you receive for our research. Each crystal is natural and unique. You may specify if you wish a smaller or larger size stone. When our limited supply is exhausted, orders will be returned unopened.

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH ARTHUR SHUTTLEWOOD

UFOS & MANKIND'S DESTINY —A SPIRITUAL AWAKENING

UFO REVIEW: How many reports would you say have been made in this area?

SHUTTLEWOOD: From Warminster and from the villages around here during the past 16 years -- which is the period in which we have been investigating UFOs -- there have been approximately 800 confirmed cases per year.

UFO REVIEW: That's a heck of a lot of sightings. Obviously, there must be a good reason for such a high concentration of reports.

SHUTTLEWOOD: There could be several reasons. One, I think, ties in with our culture which has always been steeped in mystery. We are, after all, in the center of a straight line connecting Stonehenge to Glastonbury in the west. Then you have all the old legends of King Arthur and the goodly knights. Remember, we go way back in these parts to ancient Briton and to the Saxon kings.

UFO REVIEW: So you think there is a possibility that UFOs were responsible, in some way at least, to the building of Stonehenge?

SHUTTLEWOOD: It could be that they imparted the knowledge to build Stonehenge to our early ancestors.

UFO REVIEW: What is the significance of Stonehenge -- What do you think its original purpose was?

SHUTTLEWOOD: As a clock, a calendar, a mathematical monolith.

UFO REVIEW: You just mentioned Glastonbury as being another location. Is there any evidence that UFOs are in any way connected with the King Arthur legend?

SHUTTLEWOOD: Glastonbury has had a number of sightings right up to today. I had one person tell me in all seriousness of an incident which took place during a rock festival held on a solstice at a holy place near Glastonbury. This young fellow and his girl were trying to get to sleep after the music had ended for the evening. They got into their separate sleeping bags and had pulled the coverings up above their eye lines so that they had no reflection from the moon. Suddenly, a UFO appears and shoots across the sky halting in mid air. Now mind you, both of these concert goers witnessed this through their blankets and through closed eyelids. The girl told me the exact story that the man had told me. Many hundreds, as it turned out, saw that UFO at the festival. Later, I contacted several of the witnesses and they turned out to be sane and sober and realistic.

UFO REVIEW: Speaking of rock music, I understand that a member of the Rolling Stones was up here and had a sighting.

SHUTTLEWOOD: Yes, there were two members as a matter of fact. One was Keith Richards. We've had quite a few pop stars who haven't identified themselves to me, but I've had young people who follow the music tell me later, "Did you know that was the famous Paul McCartney,?" or "that was John Lennon.?"

UFO REVIEW: How did you get started as an investigator in this field?

SHUTTLEWOOD: I was an editor with the local daily paper when these reports began coming in. It was my job to sort out everything that happened in town from public meetings to fires, and so I got caught up in the UFO business.

UFO REVIEW: How many people reside here?

SHUTTLEWOOD: When the UFO blitz first started in 1964 there were about ten thousand people. Today, there are over fifteen. The strangest thing I've encountered about the people around these parts is that as soon as Warminster became the hub of attraction for UFOs, the local people faded away. Although they had seen UFOs themselves, the older people especially hate to believe what they have seen, and hate to believe that the other people are telling the truth about what they have seen. The whole town clams up about UFOs.

UFO REVIEW: According to press reports, the first incident involving a UFO over Warminster took place on Christmas day of 1964 when a woman was tossed to the ground when a top-shaped object hovered above her on the way to church.

SHUTTLEWOOD: That's a true statement. My own involvement began some nine months later when I had my first sighting. I was scared stiff the first time I saw it and heard it, but I wanted to see more of them. I wanted to see more and more -- that was my chief motivation at the time.

UFO REVIEW: Don't hold us in suspense -- what exactly did you see?

SHUTTLEWOOD: It looked like a huge airship, a World War II dirigible. It had the shape of a zeppelin and was huge to the eye. I flashed away with my camera at it, and it jerked the whole film package away from the reel and I was left with just a few inches. I got nothing at all of that craft on film. It was huge in the sky before me coasting along at a very leisurely pace when suddenly it just shot up into the air and within three seconds appeared five miles further up from where it had been before.

UFO REVIEW: For a beginning, that was pretty spectacular. I know though that you have had many sightings since then. How many UFOs would you say you've seen?

SHUTTLEWOOD: I really hate to say because peoples' first reaction might be to say I was boasting about it. Looking back on it, each one of those experiences of seeing an unworldly craft in the heavens has been such a wonderful experience that I would not have wanted to miss it for anything. Of course, lots of other folks have also seen things and after awhile you start to feel for other peoples' experiences and you forget your own, really.

UFO REVIEW: Would you say you've become a more spiritual person due to UFOs?

SHUTTLEWOOD: The answer to that would be definitely! There are two sides to this coin. You must assess it in a scientific framework, as scientific facts are known to us here on earth. The other side of the coin is, of course, the spiritual values of the subject, and whether we are getting a forecast of what is to happen in the future to this planet and to the people living on it. Is this experience in a religious sense an equation to what happened in Christ's time? It's marvelous, he said: "I am the light. Follow me." It's so true. You want to follow each UFO light. So there, I think, is the spiritual value in this. I think it is simply other nations in the heart of the cosmos -- the universe -- giving us a hand.

We've reached a crossroads, Time. We've got to go one way or the other -- war or peace. Hatred or love. These people, as advanced as they are, have passed through this sort of experience millions of years ago and are coming light years to us now to guide us through this stage.

SHUTTLEWOOD: What do these aliens look like, do they look at all like us?

UFO REVIEW: Very much like earthlings, but some are much shorter. I have heard around here that people have seen beings of about six or seven feet tall. Other people say they have seen small men converging around a place called Heaven's Gate, which is on Lord Bath's estate. Lord Bath and I have chatted about these things which have been happening for years, and of course he believes that there must be something here. He wouldn't say whether they were huge creatures or little dwarfs. The only thing that I could go by is that usually they are described as four feet six inches tall, or conversely they are about six feet.

UFO REVIEW: Haven't you had a number of confrontations with the larger ones?

SHUTTLEWOOD: I've been with people at a place called Starr Hill, which is about three miles away from Cradle Hill, on the same aerial line. Several of us have gathered at the foot of a lane and have seen simultaneously three of these entities which suddenly glowed into existence. They are almost translucent and they haven't any legs so they glide. These three figures glided in front of us and formed a triangle or a three pointed star. They were definitely giants standing between six and seven feet tall.

UFO REVIEW: Were you able to see any facial characteristics, any eyes?

SHUTTLEWOOD: No, not at all. We only saw a dense body of light. Then suddenly, they changed from being opaque to being translucent, even transparent. You could see through them. On one occasion, there was a bank manager with us, a fellow named Mr. Pike, who walked up to one of the three figures and he talked to the being. Before the eyes of everyone there, the man walked right through the figure. This would savor in our terms of spirits or phantoms. Since they can also disappear entirely, they must belong to a different dimension or a different order of being from ours.

UFO REVIEW: Has anyone ever gotten a response back from them?

SHUTTLEWOOD: We've proven many times, that when a person flashes a message to a UFO - even if the UFO is many miles away from where we are standing - the lighted portion of the craft will echo the message back to us.

UFO REVIEW: Have they ever communicated with you on a face-to-face basis?

SHUTTLEWOOD: Sometimes a message has whirled through my mind. As an example, a person who saw a UFO one night at Cradle Hill was struck by a flame of light which stabbed the air in front of him. When this happened, he was flung several yards away from where he had been standing talking to a chap who became very frightened. The next morning at half past five he was awakened by a green glowing figure in his bedroom. The figure talked to him, or pushed into his mind certain thoughts which he could not push out. The being told him that men of earth have to be very careful, today; that there are many dangers ahead. The alien spoke of the dangers of the fault lines. He said that his people could appear or disappear according to our senses. They are supposedly here because they can penetrate deep within the earth where these shifting plates foul up and create all sorts of terrible earthquakes. He said that they are here to monitor these disturbances and to try to remedy them. He claimed they have already been trying to do this in California. This incident happened just a little over one year ago.

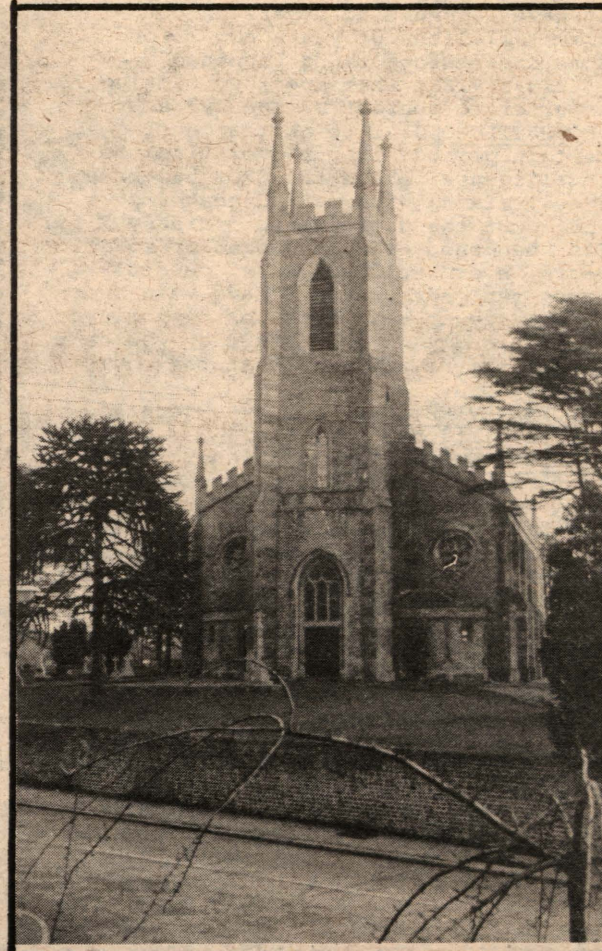

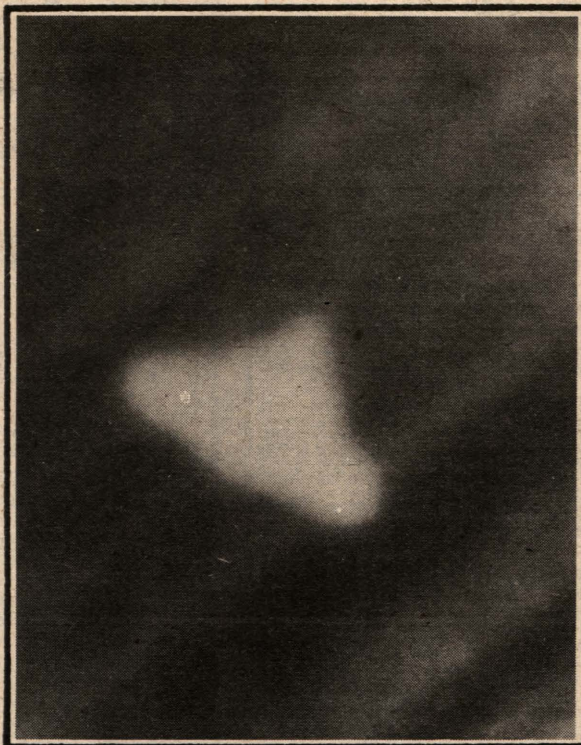

UFO REVIEW: Haven't you had people come to your door -- enter your house -- who you thought were aliens?

SHUTTLEWOOD: Yes, one good example I wrote about in the book which you published in America and called UFO PROPHECY. Also, there were two people at the door one night who wanted to go to Cradle Hill. One was called Michael the other was called Job. I have since discovered that these two names are from the Old Testament in the Bible. However, the names meant nothing to me at the time. But, I took them up to Cradle Hill. It was quite amazing that certain things did happen while they were with me.

When we were in the car, Michael said to me, "Why do you worry about what earth people think? Don't worry, you know what you see and what you hear. Let them have their own experience of seeing and hearing for their own benefit for they should reach their own conclusions. Don't put too many ideas into their heads. Let them figure it all out for themselves and form their own basis of life." They proceeded to tell me other unusual things and at one point, when we were in the car, we were showered by huge plates of glass crashing down against our automobile. With that one of them commented, "Now you hear what you hear, rest content." I was not a bit scared. My faculties were, in fact, sharpened. I could then begin to forge the truth in my own way. I think that anyone who has seen a UFO or had some kind of an experience has come to forge their own impression of what the UFO is supposed to be conveying to them.

UFO REVIEW: Haven't some people who've visited Warminster entertained strange experiences in their lives after returning home?

SHUTTLEWOOD: The only way I can describe the situation to you in a concise manner is to acquaint you with the experiences of people who have come here for skywatching purposes, and have shown up during periods of bad weather, when it was not ideal for them to go to Cradle or Starr Hill for a sighting. They would usually come in weather-proof garments, hoods and scarves and rainwear. They would stand on the hill for two or three hours seeing nothing at all. I felt so sorry for these people, some of whom had traveled from Scotland or from Ireland, traveling hundreds of miles for one night only and seeing nothing. Often, they would write to me later that suddenly they had seen something unusual in the sky. They had seen a UFO, or whatever, near where they lived. It's as though the UFO that should have appeared in Warminster, knowing of their disappointment, follows them and gives them a sighting wherever they live. I can't account for this except to postulate that they must be able to fasten on to people's thoughts. An example would be that in at least ninety-five percent of the cases where the person has confided they have seen UFOs, their sighting came about after having felt magnetically drawn to look out a certain window at a certain time. A housewife might feel that she has to put her wash out at a certain time and as she is putting her clothes up she sees a flying saucer in the sky..

UFO REVIEW: Are you of the opinion that UFOs are of a spiritual nature?

SHUTTLEWOOD: I'm personally convinced that they do have a spiritual purpose, but if you dare to mention anything about God, in connection with this you're likely to be called, "just another one of those fools." All you get is sarcasm heaped on you if you dare to mention UFOs and religion in the same breath.

UFO REVIEW: Along this line, haven't some UFOs come in the shape of crosses?

SHUTTLEWOOD: We have had several UFOs appear right around this house I live in. There was one of a cross-shaped UFO which stayed in the sky for an hour. People who passed by and happened to look up and see the cross, simply dismissed it as the Air Force doing its maneuvers again. But no aircraft was seen at the time. Usually, the crosses appear as luminous cloud trail deliberately left by the UFO people to tantalize our minds. They want us to expand our consciousness, to accept what our scientists say is impossible. UFO people have appeared on Cradle Hill sometimes in a cloud or a patch of mist. The entity later goes back into the mist and disappears, so the atoms are disassembled not assembled, until they come towards you again and assemble again. It is so astounding that one can't give it an apt description.

UFO REVIEW: Haven't some researchers tried to say that the sightings are caused by the Army who have a base nearby?

SHUTTLEWOOD: In the early days in 1965 after the initial first baptism of noise that descended on us - before we had the number of sightings we do today - people blamed the Army for all the strange sounds. This went on until the Army came forth and reported having seen UFOs themselves. Many of the troops have come up to Cradle Hill and have asked if they could join us in our skywatch, and they have then seen UFOs themselves. I have had Army sergeants tell me that they have felt scared when on maneuvers in this area because of the UFOs they have seen. I know that shells have been fired at them and the shells somehow go right around the UFOs.

UFO REVIEW: This ties in with my remarks in front of members of the House of Lords when in my closing comments I said, "Please if you have any influence with your government, tell the military not to shoot at these things. This is no way to treat someone who might be a potential friend." I thought it was important that they realize that, and I think that many of them do.

SHUTTLEWOOD: I can't understand the attitude of a man wanting to inflict injury to the craft or to the crew inside. It's so crazy when you see what they can do or what they can put the brake on doing if they so wished. You know they are not of earth. They are so advanced that any story that you can think of in the Bible has absolute feasibility in your mind, even to the parting of the waters. Things of that nature pale into insignificance in comparison to things that you see that are absolutely impossible to achieve by any method of flight that we know of.

UFO REVIEW: Has anyone ever thought about how these things operate?

SHUTTLEWOOD: Some conjecture that they warp time. Some say that the UFOs may be coming from our past or from our future. They may be millions of years ahead of us or even millions of years behind us, and going through a glorious period of achievement. We think we are the first ones on the moon, yet could it have happened to others on our planet millions of years ago before some disasterous thing happened?

UFO REVIEW: What are they waiting for in order to contact us openly?

SHUTTLEWOOD: I think that during certain periods in our evolution the intelligence behind the UFOs has been freely mixing with us and teaching us all about the pitfalls in ordinary life. Its happened every thousand or so years, every hundred years, possibly every ten years. People have been sworn to secrecy at that time, or hypnotized in a friendly way so that they wouldn't reveal the revelations that they have been told.

UFO REVIEW: Have you ever received any revelations?

SHUTTLEWOOD: It's difficult to say that, isn't it? You only know what you know within. I think that if there is a God and I am convinced that there is, God is within every person. He forms a church, a place of great sanctity within each individual. If one believes, one will practice all that is best from within, and that is God.

UFO REVIEW: Do the intelligence behind UFOs visiting Warminster have a particular message?

SHUTTLEWOOD: The only thing that I can say is that when a UFO has finished putting on its display and has disappeared, thoughts begin to batter ones mind. I've heard such thoughts as we will be here for many years. It is like the sound that the UFO makes, when it does make a sound, a high pitch buzzing. It's a little like angry bees or hornets. Sometimes you'll think what is being told to you when you are dreaming at night.

I CHING CUBES AN INCREDIBLE NEW BOOK

I CHING CUBES

Throw the I Ching easily and simply Plus a New Way to Answer Yes or No Questions

For all those interested in bypassing conscious reasoning in favor of obtaining information directly through your subconscious which is your connecting link to universal knowledge.
Copyright © 1978 by Kenneth G. Dickerson

It's THE ONLY I CHING BOOK that gives you a clear and definite YES or NO answer to your questions and the reason why.

Many people who are successful in their private and professional lives are so because they will not make an important move without consulting the I CHING CUBES book for its straightforward answers.

You'll never make a bad decision again as long as you consult your I CHING CUBES book before you act. This incredible book can answer all kinds of questions. These are just a few examples:

When the question was asked, "Will President Carter win the 1980 election?", the answer was clear and definite. Trigram No. 4 came up, which is titled UNTRAINED or INEXPERIENCE. It went on to say: "The answer to your question is NO, because of a lack of experience or training in dealing with this matter." This is correct. It is exactly the reason President Carter was voted out of office, because he didn't have the proper experience or training to deal with the matters connected with the office of the Presidency.

Then the question was asked, "Will Governor Reagan win the 1980 election?" The answer that came up was trigram No. 58 titled ENCOURAGING. It went on to say: "The answer to your question is YES, but do not be critical or opinionated. Create harmony by encouraging people in their goals. You should keep in mind that continuing success is contingent upon your connections with others."

Now let's analyze the answer. He most certainly won the election. He said he would not be critical or give any opinions about the handling of the hostage situation until he took over the office of President. Part of the reason he won the election was because he said he wanted to create harmony in the country by encouraging people in fulfilling their goals. One of the ways he proposed to do this is by cutting taxes. He's also given a warning which says that for him to continue to be successful, it is contingent upon the connections he makes with others.

Ms. L.S. wanted to know if she should invest a thousand dollars in a particular financial deal. The answer was a clear and definite NO and went on to say, "You could have the shock of your life, and release unpredictable forces or events. Your intentions should be completely altered or you will receive many shocking experiences." Ms. L.S. didn't invest the thousand dollars. A few days after receiving this answer, a scandal broke out in all the Public News Media, that this particular enterprise was a fraud, and many people who had invested in it were being ripped off and others were being investigated.

Mr. K.L. wanted to know if he should buy a particular used car. We informed him that according to the I CHING CUBES book the answer to his question was a clear and definite NO. However, about two months later we received another letter from Mr. K.L. in which he said he had bought the car and now was very sorry he had. About two weeks after buying the car one of the wheels almost fell off. Then he discovered a major oil leak, he had to buy new brakes, new shock absorbers, and motor mounts. Mr. K.L. said he learned his lesson, the next time he has to make an important decision he'll follow the advice of his I CHING CUBES book.

STRANGER AT THE PENTAGON by Frank Stranges

An exclusive account written by the spaceman known as Val Thor. A vital message to our planet from a being light years ahead of us. This is the suppressed story. Hundreds of dramatic UFO photos as well as four photos of Val Thor. 200 page, softcover book: $5.50.

WILL CIVILIZATION END BETWEEN 1982 AND YEAR 2000?

Psychics, religious leaders, UFO contactees, all agree we are entering the "Last Days." The Armageddon of Revelations is near. There will be drastic earth changes, collapse of money system, government control of our lives, freak storms, mass spaceship landings, appearance of Antichrist. Atlantis will rise. Survivors will have ESP. PSYCHIC & UFO REVELATIONS IN THE LAST DAYS by Timothy Green Beckley tells where to go during final hours to be safe. Special meditation and prayer for peace included in this attractive, fully illustrated, 8 1/2 x 11 softcover volume. --$9.95

HOW TO CONTACT SPACE PEOPLE

UFO contactee, Ted Owens, is about the strangest person ever to become involved in this field. He is perhaps best known for his accurate predictions involving massive blackouts, UFO sightings, freak weather conditions, as well as the outcome of international situations. Owens claims he is a messenger for the "SI's" better known as the "Saucer Intelligences" whom he can contact at will. In this tabloid-sized publication he reveals the method that he uses as well as the broadbased plan of the aliens he is in contact with. -- $3.95.

The deep breathing suddenly stopped and a voice filled the otherwise hushed room:

"Greetings light of the radiant one, Father, Mother, God. I Am that I Am. This is Monka of Mars, protector of the planet Earth coming to you this evening to give you a confirmation message that we of the Galactic Federation of all space commands are in agreement at this time that the final sequence is approaching, that there will be open landings in a month's time.

"We of the Confederation, in full alliance with all the light forces throughout the heavenly realms - throughout the cosmos - are confirming that time is running out on all levels of your existence, that the military forces, the government forces, are about to bring about a nuclear devastation. And this is why we bring about our divine intervention, for we cannot allow nuclear devastation on your planet similar to what happened to Maldeck, a world that existed between Jupiter and Mars that is now an asteroid belt.

"We of the higher space commands are constantly monitoring and guiding you. All light workers in earthly embodiment, 144,000, have been guided since the time of birth. It is the intent to do, that is most important. It doesn't matter what one believes religiously, it only matters what one intends to do - what one wants to do - as far as society is concerned. And this every light worker knows edule. To all contactees this information has been, or will be, given in the coming weeks. Many that you are in link with have been, or will be notified of the impending changes. You will be getting inner confirmation of this in your feelings, and in visions, and in telepathic messages. And you will be overcome with the feeling that you know, but you don't know why you know. It comes through to you from the Father and gives you that kind of feeling of purpose of the divine will, of the divine plan that we of the Federation have been working on..."

* * * * *

The channeling session, conducted in the offices of UFO REVIEW, lasted over half an hour. Finally, the channel ended the discourse and returned to his normal state of consciousness.

Michael El-Legion and his wife of several months (they were married recently near Mt. Shasta), have been traveling around the United States in an attempt to get their messis actually an extraterrestrial may be a hard pill to swallow, Michael did pass a stress test which was conducted by C.R. McQuiston for the National Enquirer. Also, under hypnosis, El-Legion made similar statements which hypnotist George Cogan, director of the Hypnosis Center of the Southwest, felt could not have been faked.

In previous issues of the UFO REVIEW, as well as in several of the books we have either published or distributed, such a mass evacuation has been discussed as received via telepathic messages from entities identifying themselves as being aliens watching over our world. The supposed head of this group is known as Ashtar Commander in Chief of the Free Federation of Planets. One of those who often channels through is Monka a being from the planet Mars. So far, no one has received a specific date for this much talked about mass landing and evacuation. El-Legion and his wife, however, seem convinced that the time is now, and they won't be swayed in their conviction.

Michael and Aurora El-Legion of Scottsdale, Arizona are convinced many will be saved from a nuclear disaster when they are taken aboard giant UFOs to be seen all over the world. They say the "lift off" will take place "very soon." Michael lectures, does psychic readings and also channels various space entities, while his wife designs colorful clothes and crystals.

SPACE AGE "NOAH'S ARKS" TO FILL THE SKY PREDICTED—UFOS TO EVACUATE MILLIONS OFF THE PLANET

deep within as all have been linking and working toward a common ideal, a higher goal, in preparation for the greater reunion when we openly land.

"I confirm - yes, it has come down from the God head to the central sun, the Galactic Council, that we have to allow this to happen at this time. All space commands are in agreement. In earlier times there has been disagreement, and even now there are discussions, but all have agreed, all have come to final conclusion and decision at this time, that this must come about. There cannot be a changing of this sch-age across to as many light workers as possible. They have been holding lectures and seminars in many towns and seem genuinely convinced that the moment is finally at hand when the "chosen" will be lifted up and taken to another place while the Earth undergoes some pretty radical changes.

Michael, who just turned 29, says he's been involved with UFOs and New Age work for many years. "When I was only eight I realized that there was something different about me, that I wasn't from here."

Though his claim that he

"Over the last few years, I've been led to believe that a monumental event was soon to happen," the blond haired space channel maintains. "I'm convinced that a series of events, all inter-related, have been occurring, which have paved the way for me and Aurora to deliver this message." The most recent incident apparently involved the face-to-face meeting of an alien in Squaw Peak Park in Arizona.

"It was August of 1981," Michael states, "when I was approached by a space brother. I immediately recognized him because his aura was so strong. It was golden in color as was his hair. He had penetrating eyes which were so intense that I knew he wasn't from earth."

Michael says he spoke to the space being for 4 or 5 minutes. "He told me via mental telepathy that the time was close at hand when some of us would be taken up. He said they would soon be coming en masse and that the reason they were coming was to stop nuclear war. He informed me that the 'gathering' would be in three stages. The first stage would involve the removal of all the lights workers who would be taken to mother ships orbiting the earth that are seven to ten miles in length. They would be given the red carpet treatment and would be returned to earth in two earthly weeks. The second higher beings can be thought of in such a way. And remember, (for all those who find it necessary to hang this on biblical texts) Jesus did say, "In my house there are many mansions," which refers to life which may abound on other worlds.

So who's to say that extraterrestrials haven't long ago given up wars and learned to live in peace and harmony, and that they aren't interested in our advancing along the same lines? God loving beings from all over the universe could be looking out for us poor earthlings in our time of greatest need. In fact, evidence shows that this theory is capable of holding a lot of water.

But it is all well and good to write about invisible beings who occupy human bodies and people who possess unusual abilities, attributing them to UFOs, but what about flesh and blood ET's who might be walking next to you on the street? In previous issues of the EVIEW as well as in books written by Tim Beckley (mainly STRANGE ENCOUNTERS and THE BOOK OF SPACE CONTACTS), this topic has been discussed and several cases of this type have been given. For the most part, these episodes have admittedly been pretty bizarre. Chalking off the whole idea as the fantasies of disturbed minds might be a good idea if you didn't know better.

But before you brush aside the strange story told by one normal looking lady who insists she's from "out there," you'd better listen to what she has to say firsthand and weigh the evidence she presents both pro and con.

ViVenus says she arrived on Terra Firma in 1960, replacing a young woman her own age who had lead a rather tragic life and was contemplating suicide. The "switch" took place in New York's Central Park when ViVenus's "swoop" (the Venusian term for a flying saucer) lowered ViVenus out one side of the craft and beamed aboard the troubled woman through a hatch on the other side of the ship. Once the change had been made, ViVenus took over the other girl's life, only this time she had a mission - to bring love to the planet earth.

At first, this story may seem like an out-and-out fantasy yarn. Some people will think that the entire matter is nothing more than a publicity stunt. Some will even go so far as to proclaim this the most outlandish hoax of the decade. But after you've been in her company - had the chance to feel her "vibes" - if you are any sort of a New Ager at heart, there's a good chance you will accept her words of love as they are meant - in total sincerity without concern for self gratification.

Though ViVenus is just starting to go "public" with her story, in actuality she has been known in certain circles for many years. She first "showed up" in June 1967 at the NBC radio studio of popular all night talk host Long John Nebel. (As many east coast readers will immediately realize, Long John was years ahead of his time. His midnight to 5 A.M. program was heard in over thirty states and he was the first radio personality to use the two-way telephone "call-in" format, which invited his vast audience to telephone the station and ask questions of his guest. Long John, above all else, was known for his interest in the off-beat. He never missed an opportunity to have on the likes of George Adamski, Dan Fry and others who claimed to have gone for riders aboard flying saucers. In retrospect he did much to popularize the subject when few others took UFOs seriously. One of his favorite guests was contactee Howard Menger whom he must have had on the air several dozen times. And while Long John passed away several years ago his wife Candy Jones continues with the program nightly on WMCA in New York.

Realizing that he had made a "find" Long John invited ViVenus to go on the air with him. "Miss Venus, in her mid-twenties, was very disappointing at first glance," John recalls, detailing their first encounter in the now out of print book THE PSYCHIC WORLD AROUND US which he co-authored with Sandy Teller. "There wasn't a trace of green skin, extra eyes, claws or tail. Frankly, this creature from space was no different looking than any of the thousands of pretty career girls that you might pass on a New York street." John admits that he had his doubts she was really from Venus, but "I was absolutely convinced that this charming young lady believed every word of this incredible story she told me. No matter how rough my cross-examination, I couldn't fluster her. As far as ViVenus was concerned she was born on Venus twenty-eight years ago and had been living on earth for six months. She said she had been sent to us on a special mission that would ultimately affect every man, woman and child in the world. She had a message to deliver from the people of her planet to all the inhabitants of ours."

Realizing that ViVenus was "hot show material," Long John bumped his scheduled guest for the upcoming Saturday program and had ViVenus on instead. The panel for the program included Art Ford, a popular radio DJ from New York turned UFO investigator in recent years. At around 2 A.M. sportscaster Mel Allen took a seat around the microphones of NBC and started in questioning this highly unusual guest. Despite the skepticism of those present, ViVenus stuck to her guns, telling the same convincing story. "Within the next few days," stated Long John, "I received more than ten thousand letters, postcards and telegrams from listeners. Most of them wanted 'just a few seconds with ViVenus to ask her about her home planet. Some hoped she could give them the secret of eternal life. Others were sure that she could help them contact a deceased loved one." Shortly thereafter, James W. Moseley editor & publisher of SAUCER NEWS, held the largest indoor UFO convention of all time in a New York City hotel. Over 8,000 people attended the event. Realizing the nature of the response she had received on the radio, Jim asked ViVenus to talk at his gathering. Says Long John about ViVenus's appearance at the conference: "With the possible exception of the President of the United States or the Beatles, I can't think of another attraction that would generate the kind of response ViVenus seemed to be receiving - and these were paid admissions." Shortly after the con-

REVEALED: S MISSION ON EARTH

BY DIANE TESSMAN

where she came from, she is willing to speak of her past. Here are just a few of the topics she willingly discussed:

LIFE ON VENUS

The "things" on Venus are not really "things" as they seem to be on earth. We make what we make for the most part with our minds. No sounds of hammers pounding nails. We vision our house, and the house is there. We can envision it being built brick by brick, or we can see it all at once perfect and complete.

The planet Venus is a planet of life - living souls with forms that cannot be seen by the earth's physical eyes...must not be seen by the planet that would to "claim" it and make it like unto itself.

The Father and His angels protect our world. They form cloud-like vapors over us in those times those on earth try to "probe."

My family and I lived in a house made of a clay-like substance in the shape of yellow bricks. My house at home is pale yellow, four windows without glass in them, two doors without locks, no curtains, no roof, no floor.

We were not "poor" but simply in keeping with the "style" on Venus why should we shut out the glorious sky with all its changing colors? It will never rain, never snow, never be too cold, never be too windy. And no world of sun on Venus to scorch us. The soft white grass of home cannot ever be covered. It is sacred ground. We do not wear shoes, for the touch of our ground is blessed when we are moved to touch it. We have no radio, no TV, no phone. We entertain each other, and most of all, we just love being together.

ANIMALS

My parents took me places all over our world. The three of us floated hand in hand. One time a little blue pony appeared and seemed to follow us for awhile. Then he led us to a field of lilac flowers and beyond the flowers were more ponies, some blue, some light green, some pink, some cheerful yellow. And then our little blue pony lifted his head, said something in his own special way, and trotted beyond the lilac flowers to his pony friends.

OTHERS HERE

Yes, there are others here on earth from other worlds. I am not the only one on love's mission. Love has its helpmates in every field - in every country in your world. Not all entered the earth atmosphere as I entered and we each have our roles to play.

DIFFERENCE IN TIME

Born on Venus. There was no year, for only the earth counts measures and miles. Perhaps a day on earth is but a moment in the eternal spheres. I do know that when America was born, I was already in existence on Venus...because I heard its initial vows. Great moments of light reached our world and touched our hearts. I do remember being born on Venus several times.

VENUSIAN GOVERNMENT

Venus is made up of not nations divided, but small villages wherein one can find another expression of him or herself. There is a kind of mayor for each village who welcomes the souls that enter it. This is basically his or her main function, though he or she also calls us together at times for prayer of thanksgiving. The mayor of the village is not elected, but chosen because he or she has volunteered. This is his or her service to love and his or her mission on the planet Venus.

ABUNDANCE FOR ALL

Venus is seemingly a planet of withouts: We don't have money; we don't have wars; we don't have jobs; we don't have cars; we don't have bombs; we don't have guns; we don't have pain; we don't have lonely; we don't have misunderstood; we don't have ridicule; we don't have the unfortunate. We don't have a lot that the earth has -- and there is no lack anywhere.

RAINBOWS AND ROADS

We do not have streets or roads on Venus, but there are paths of gold or white leading to here, to there, to nowhere in particular. Some paths have flowers beside them and these are the paths that lead to our rainbows. Our rainbows have many stripes of colors. We can touch our rainbows, even stand or sit upon them.

SPACESHIPS

Spaceships - I call them "swoops" because I'm a Venusian, and Venusians - if they name a thing - name it for what it does rather than for how it looks. A spaceship does swoop as a bird swoops.

The swoops on Venus are all colors and all sizes and many shapes. There are several giant swoops that carry many smaller ones inside, to let them disembark over the lands they must keep vigil.

At home, there is a special part of our land to house our swoops. We do not need them on our world, but only for travel to other worlds. There are many on earth who have seen and many who felt pure love for their UFO experience, and that is the way it should be.

The swoops in your skies can make themselves visible or invisible. They are piloted by usually two male souls. They are trained their whole life to maneuver these craft. They know how to form clouds around themselves. They know how to instantly appear and instantly disappear. And the swoops in your skies are there on a mission of love to polarize with light the negativity that is in earth's atmosphere.

In flight you feel no motion at all. And yet as you look through the little windows you see the colors of the changing atmosphere and you know you are en route. Swoops make no sound and they do not leave ground like a rocket. There is no force but love - it is like a magnet that directs the flight.

In a swoop, one must wear a space suit. Some are silver, some are white or pale blue. They are soft and comfortable and made of a substance resistant to grounding. They are also insulated for warmth. When a swoop returns from a mission it is serviced. It is a service of cleansing and purifying.

The swoop I traveled in to journey to earth was silver inside and out. It was shaped like a small bungalow. A swoop needs no fuel, no water and has no parts that will break.

IMPOSTERS IN THE SKY

We are here to help lift the earth to light. We are not here to add to the fear that already permeates the atmosphere of earth, the fear that keepeth away perfect love.

There are imposters flying through your skies. There are objects made to look as our ships look. And there are even entities trying to masquerade as us. But be not fooled. And be not frightened. They cannot harm you. At worst they can only delay you from trusting us. We who love you and who come to help.

Who are these imposters? They are not

ceived on the radio, Jim asked ViVenus to talk at his gathering. Says Long John about ViVenus's appearance at the conference: "With the possible exception of the President of the United States or the Beatles, I can't think of another attraction that would generate the kind of response ViVenus seemed to be receiving - and these were paid admissions."

Shortly after the convention was over, ViVenus seemed to vanish. "Actually, I went on the road for God, traveling across the United States," she now reveals on the eve of having her autobiography, VIVENUS: STARCHILD published. "My message was to bring love. Every day of my travels was like a miracle. People changed before my eyes. Violence dissolved into kindness, hurt into laughter. Fear and confusion washed away to be replaced by love," she states.

To say that ViVenus is unique is to put it mildly. Sincerity is apparent in her every word - the truth shines in her eyes.

ViVenus admits that there is much to do in the times ahead. Though she sees the messages as being more important than who she is and from any other world in space, but your own planet. They are from your atmosphere. They are not physical beings, but souls who finished their roles on earth in darkness. They are the souls who deliberately seek to cause mischief and havoc on your planet. And they are allowed to continue their folly until they see the light. This is darkness some of which manifests into what seems real objects, even real people. But it is the craft of the darkness to make its illusions seem real.

SPIRITUAL EXPERIENCE

I have met the Father. I knelt for the longest time and I felt only quiet. Then He appeared. He is the one known on earth as "Jesus." He is the Father when the Father wants to appear as a form to us; when He wants us to feel strongly His friendship. I did not speak. And He only smiled. It was a smile that caressed my being: "Lighten the earth planet with love." He held a crown in His hand - a crown so gloriously arrayed in jewels of sapphire and rubies and white pearls.

His appearance to me, a gift of ultra love, but I was not the only one to whom He ever appeared. For any on Venus who had need of His presence, ask and He comes. I do not consciously remember asking, but I do know that missions on earth need this blessing above all blessings for us to carry on.

TRAVELER THROUGH SPACE AND TIME

And so ViVenus tells her story. A fantasy? A dream? Or - just perhaps - the truth. As for evidence even ViVenus says she can't offer anything in the area of tangible proof. She simply says: "I cannot prove my origin. I cannot prove what I share with you is true. I cannot even prove that I exist at all. Perhaps I am but a figment of your imagination. What is proof is but an illusion of the mind. What is faith is of the heart and thus real. If I do exist, then, I am from Venus. I have no credentials, but one and that is that my heart does not stop loving you, oh, children of earth."

(PUBLISHERS NOTE: An exciting new book titled VIVENUS: STARCHILD has just been published by UFO REVIEW and is available from our offices at the price of $9.95 plus $1.00 for postage & handling. It contains the entire story of Vi's trip to earth and her mission here. It is a book that no New Age person will want to miss. An ad for the book appears elsewhere in this issue.)

MOONGATE:

Suppressed Findings of the U.S. Space Program

The NASA-Military Cover-Up

By William L. Brian II

Documented Evidence:

Moongate exposes the greatest cover-up ever perpetrated upon the American people. The author compiled evidence from unclassified sources including official government publications, NASA photographs and movies, news articles, and books by authorities in various fields. Moongate is written for the layman and scientist alike, with mathematical calculations included in the appendices. It contains many color photographs and footnoted references.

Incredible Findings:

- NASA's True Link to Military Space Operations
- Secret Weapons Developed Under the Cover of the Civilian Space Program
- Suppressed Gravity Research Discoveries
- The Real U.S.-Russian Space Race
- Secret Discoveries that Put Apollo Astronauts on the Moon
- The Moon's True Nature and History (Adamski, Menger, UFOs)
- The Great Energy Cover-Up

About the Author:

William L. Brian II is an engineer who has worked in a writing and editing capacity in private industry. He received B.S. and M.S. degrees in Nuclear Engineering from Oregon State University in 1970 and 1972, plus an M.B.A. from Portland State University in 1976. Although not considered an expert in the space sciences, he has the mathematical and conceptual skills to verify the cover-up from a scientific standpoint.

FREE
CHRISTIAN TALISMAN ENABLES YOU TO:

CALL UPON YOUR GUARDIAN ANGEL FOR GUIDANCE AND PROTECTION

Psalms 90:11-13 states: "The Lord hath given his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

Evangelist Billy Graham tells us: "When Christians die, an angel will be there to comfort us, to give us peace and joy even at that most critical hour, and to usher us into the presence of God, where we shall dwell with the Lord forever..."

Jesus himself revealed the wonderful truth that the faithful each have a guardian angel to attend to them throughout their life: "Behold! I will send my angel, who shall go forth before thee, and keep thee in thy journey, and bring thee into the place that I have prepared."

Now for the FIRST TIME, you can learn all there is to know about God's special helpers—why angels were created; what their purpose in the Lord's scheme of things really is; and most important of all, how you can call upon them directly for guidance and protection, in order to make your own life more peaceful and fruitful.

Here's a sample of what you can expect to read in an amazing new book just released titled ANGELS OF THE LORD:

ANGELS WALK AMONGST US!

It may come as a shock to many, but according to evidence, we are often confronted by angels, but do not know it. Yes, angels are visible quite often, only they don't always appear to us as spiritual beings with wings, but rather as men, and even as strangers. They come when they are most needed. You may even pass an angel on the street who is bent on doing some good for someone that can't be accomplished in his invisible state.

NINE SPECIFIC WAYS OUR PERSONAL ANGEL PROTECTS US

Biblical scholars insist that angels do more than follow us about. It is said that they have a special mission that they must carry out. Among other things they must protect our spirituality; defend us from the seduction of Satan; shield us from sudden dangers; help in the saving of our soul; pray for and with us; assist us in praising God and help when it is time for us to "cross over." Each of the nine ways is described in detail so you will know what to expect from your personal angel and what you must do in return.

HIERARCHY OF ANGELS

Generally, it is not known that there is an actual organization of angels. The divisions include: Archangels, Seraphim, Cherubim, Principalities, Authorities, Powers, Thrones, Might and Dominion. Find out how these various angels are ranked and what their individual duties consist of.

DOCUMENTED CASES OF PEOPLE HELPED BY THEIR GUARDIAN ANGEL

Many startling, modern day case histories are written about. For example:

- The New York woman whose guardian angel led her to a job when she was totally destitute.
- The "Angel of Mercy" who prevented the killing of Chinese citizens by the Japanese during World War II.
- The battalion of angels who fought it out with the enemy in the skies over Europe as testified to by Lord Hugh Dowding.
- The band of angels that prevented dozens of GI's from freezing in Korea.

ROLE OF ANGELS IN HISTORY

- George Washington had a vision in which an angel appeared to him and foretold the future history of the United States.
- The famous flying ace, Charles Lindberg, claimed that his guardian angel was with him in the cockpit of the Spirit of St. Louis as he crossed the Atlantic.
- Saintly Padre Pio, the stigmatic priest, frequently carried on conversations with not only his guardian angel, but the guardian angels of others.
- St. Benedict claims that angels actually joined the holy monks in song.
- St. Nicholas was permitted to hear his guardian angel and other angels for the last six months of his life.
- St. Frances often read at night by the light given off by the glowing hair of her guardian angel.
- There is even evidence that the writing of the Constitution was done with the help of an angel.

UFOs OR ANGELS?

Some experts now believe that the strange objects observed in the sky may actually be angels and not extraterrestrial craft. The fact that UFOs do not show up on radar screens is significant, since angels are not usually of flesh and blood, and therefore would not register on even our most advanced technical equipment. Scriptures tend to verify this theory.

LANGUAGE OF ANGELS AND HOW THEY TRAVEL

We are told that angels have a language all their own which we may possibly learn to speak. Also, angels can travel thousands of miles in the twinkling of an eye utilizing a method which science has only begun to dream of.

WAR WITH SATAN

Not all angels are good. The Bible tells us that Satan was once an angel and that he was thrown out of heaven. One third of all angels could be demons and we are warned that the devil is out to take over the world and capture our very souls. Learn of the tools which Satan uses to trick us, and how we can prevent being possessed. Discover why baptism is important in this age old war, and what it means to follow the "Great White Light."

A POWERFUL FREE GIFT TO ENRICH YOUR LIFE

When you order your personal copy of ANGELS OF THE LORD we will send you free of charge a special talisman in the form of a prayer printed on quality parchment which will enable you to contact your own guardian angel. To evoke this special blessing, it is necessary to carry this talisman on your person at all times. God wants you to be in touch with your personal guardian angel, and you will be properly equipped.

SECRET PROPHECY OF FATIMA REVEALED!

THE VISIONS

Six visions are associated with the Miracle at Fatima. The first vision was on May 13, 1917 and involved three little children—Francisco, Jacinta and Lucy, who reported seeing lightning on a cloudless day and a globe of light which settled amidst the branches of an old oak tree. Little by little a light appeared to develop in the center of the globe and the figure of a beautiful young woman appeared surrounded in iridescent radiance. The woman spoke to the children. She said, "Do not be afraid, I will not harm you." The lady told them to return to the same spot on the same day of each month and that eventually she would perform miracles and make her presence known to the faithful.

The children suffered numerous persecutions. Their own parents called them liars. The church said the apparition was Satan's handy work, while the government actually threw them in jail and threatened to boil them alive in a vat of oil, if they didn't confess to making up the entire episode. The trio kept to their original story and the crowds grew in hopes of being blessed by Jesus' mother. They came on crutches or were carried in the arms of loved ones. Many miracles were subsequently performed and the spot has since become a shrine.

THE THREE PROPHECIES

During the course of her appearance, the "woman in white," gave the children three prophecies. One prediction involved the end of the first world war, the second concerned itself with World War II, and the rise of Russia as a global threat. A third prophecy was given but it was decided that it was too traumatic to be revealed and instead of being released, the prophecy was placed in a sealed envelope and handed over to the Bishop of Portugal for safekeeping until it was to be opened in 1960 in the presence of the Pope. 1960 came and went without any disclosure from the Vatican, but those who were present at the opening of the envelope say the Pope's face turned white and he felt sickly after reading the contents of the third prophecy of Fatima. To this day the church has never disclosed the final message of the Blessed Mother. Many feel the prophecy deals with Armageddon, but the truth may even be more shocking. What is not generally known is that Lucy (who later became a nun) has continued up to this day to have prophetic visions the contents of which are also utterly startling.

PHENOMENA OF THE FALLING SUN

As 70,000 stood in stunned silence on October 13, 1917 at Fatima, the sun seemed to leave its orbit and come crashing toward earth. It had been raining heavily before the Virgin's promised appearance at noon but suddenly, the rain stopped and many witnesses reported that the sun started to spin in much the same way that a firecracker pin wheel spins. It gave off fiery fingers of light that extended across the sky. The earth itself changed colors. First it was cast in a sort of red shadow, then orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. As the sun plunged toward the ground it shimmered violently. The crowd screamed. Some thought it was the end of the world. Thousands fell to their knees in terror. Others went prone, pleading with God to have mercy. The weird display continued for 10 minutes. Finally, the sun halted its devastating approach and started to climb again to its normal position in the sky. The ground dried up immediately. This is generally thought to be the greatest miracle of modern times witnessed by thousands of believers and former skeptics alike. This miracle defies science and it has never been explained—IT NEVER WILL BE!

AN EERIE COINCIDENCE

The coincidence was startling. Just after 5 P.M. on May 13, 1981, Pope John Paul II was shot while riding in a white jeep through St. Peter's Square. It was just after 5 p.m. on May 13, 1917, that the three children while tending sheep saw the Virgin Mary for the first time.

The Pope was still in the hospital recovering from the Turkish radical's bullet when he decided to go to the Basilica of our Lady of Fatima to give thanks to the Blessed Mother for saving his life.

Pope John Paul II is convinced that his remarkable recovery from his bullet wounds was the result of the intervention of the Virgin. In December 1981 he told an audience, "I have seen the extraordinary maternal protection that showed itself to be more powerful than the homicidal bullets."

The Pope's devotion to Mary is unabashed and certainly no secret. His feelings for Mary have been fervent even when he was Bishop of Krakow, Poland. At that time he had an "M" for Mary embroidered on his robes. Now that he is the Pope, his blue-and-white shield bears the same letter and his personal motto is "Totus tuus sum Maria," which is Latin for "Mary, I am all yours."

PHOTOGRAPHIC PROOF

The Middle Ages is generally considered the golden age of the cult of Mary. However, there are many theologians, historians and sociologists who don't agree. One of them is a minister from Washington, N.J. who says: "We have wars, threats of war, cults, drugs, and a thousand other problems. People are looking frantically for help, and in Mary they find it." The minister is convinced that the 20th Century is the age of Mary. Another who feels the same way is a specialist in the history of Christianity at a university in Pennsylvania. "This is the most active age of devotion to the Virgin...The interest has been building for the past 150 years with more and more reports of Mary in more and more places." This book discusses many of these apparitions in detail and actually published AUTHENTIC photos of the Virgin Mary as snapped by the eye of the camera in several locations over the last few years.

DARE YOU
BREAK THIS SEAL?

THE SECRET PROPHECY OF FATIMA REVEALED, comes with a golden notary seal on the book's final section (there are 3 sections total, one in honor of each prophecy), the contents of which we predict could prove totally devastating and awesome to the reader regardless of religious conviction. If, after reading this exciting volume up to this point, you do not feel you can take the astounding revelations of these final climactic pages, we will gladly refund your purchase price as long as the seal has not been broken. The mystery of the controversial unsealed prophecy has been speculated about for years. The mystery finally has been broken. The revelations and predictions in this book are guaranteed to astound you. They are chilling and indicate that we are in the middle of a very important period for all of mankind.

Maybe he was right after all. Van Daniken says in his books on ancient astronauts that earth was visited thousands of years ago by beings from other worlds. Over the last few years Van Daniken has lost a lot of his credibility mainly due to his inability to substantiate some of his wilder claims. Yet, you have to give the man credit as he has managed to arouse interest in millions of previously unenlightened readers around the world.

In recent times, I've traveled many of the same roads as Van Daniken, and I dare say explored other puzzling sites he might not even know about. These mysterious locations are spotted around the globe in remote areas of North America, South America, Mexico and the Middle East. A number of these mystical sites have been pin pointed as having been landing, launching and living pads utilized by travelers from space in ancient times.

What evidence is there that interplanetary voyagers arrived on earth eons ago? Such proof abounds in the seemingly imperishable records of antiquity in the form of monuments, great art works, incomprehensible symbols, ceremonial garments and trappings, architecture and anatomical pictographs. One stunning discovery I made is that a good percentage of the leaders and priests depicted have peculiar and unexplainable physical attributes.

Modern day science has a way of explaining these physical anomalies such as six fingered, six toed beings. They say that they are flukes of nature, or if not an outright mistake, at least poetic license rendered by a prankish artist.

They have even said that the suppleness of limbs - where the feet of the supposed deities turn outward in a kind of ballet posture at 90 degree right angles from the normal forward stance - has been diagnosed as afflictions such as a club foot or bone cancer.

So far, I've run into these six fingered "humans" on the stone walls of Palenque in Mexico, in the ancient Amazon city of Akakor in Brazil, in Egypt and at other historical sites world wide. This sixth finger in every case I've investigated was not a useless appendage or growth, but rather a functional limb in balance with the rest of the hand. At Palenque a medical doctor pointed out to me a stone upon which had been carved an entity with extra ribs. Similar clues have turned up at varied places; locations which are separated by thousands of miles of land and sea which supposedly the ancients would have not been able to cross.

Actually, it is easy for us to prove that various ancient cultures had absolutely no contact with other societies, even those existing nearby. It is, for example, an established fact that of the 52 tribes of American Indians living less than ten miles apart in the region around Alta, California, not one of them could understand each other's language.

In Karl Brugger's book CHRONICLES OF AKAKOR, an Amazon Indian chief named Tatumca Nara claims he was led by a high priest into an underground city near the headwaters of the Amazon River far above Manaus in Brazil. Here, in a fabulous city built inside the earth, he was led to a vault which holds four blocks of transparent stone something like glass or crystal. The Indian Chief says that within each block was the body of a humanoid laying in a pool of liquid. These beings were positively NOT of earthly origins, this being proven by the fact that each had six fingers on both hands.

Want additional proof? Well, did you know that in 1969 representatives of the National Indian Foundation flew over the newly constructed Trans-Amazon highway and discovered an Indian village populated by fair-skinned, blue-eyed, blond Indians?

Similarly, members of the same foundation encountered in 1971 yet another "white tribe" living on the banks of the Bacoia River. Some of these natives had red beards and long ear lobes, in the manner of Easter Island's historic "long ears." Two years later, further up the Ipuxana River, another blond haired tribe was found. Other reports of fair complexioned natives come from Brazil's Matto Grosso, Peru and northern Bolivia. Finally, Quetzalcoatl, the legendary deity of Mexico and Central America may have been the same as the so-called god Kulkulcan, Itzamna (a Christ-like figure), Venezuela's "Xue," and Bochica in Columbia. All of these deities were fair skinned with blue eyes and blond hair.

In future columns I'll be writing about another race - the legendary blue race. ●

SAMAIPATA is an unrecognized wonder of the world, located on a Bolivian mountain ridge. Deep carvings in the red sandstone cover several acres and challenge the most imaginative minds to come up with a rational explanation. The original works were completed far back in time. Weatherworn surfaces suggest it was done tens of thousands of years ago. Careful study reveals the fact that Samaipata was a launching platform of immense size. Interconnected tubes, slots, apertures and tracks suggest that the total site served as a block on which a huge spacecraft must have rested. The site itself may have acted as a gigantic motor with the lattice work, channels and openings being the undercarriage block exhaust and intake conductors, valve and piston bores. Notice in the center, two tracks one hundred feet long which may have been used as a downslope launching ramp. Explanations by archaeologists that these tracks were used as conveyors of blood in sacrificial rites doesn't satisfy the most gullible. With tracks of this size and length, what were they sacrificing - a regiment of King Kong sized humans? Dowsing work done at the site, reveals numerous energy vortexes, a meeting of earth and sky energies. Moreover, Samaipata is the meeting place of great global ley (magnetic) lines that interconnect over the planet in a kind of geometrical grid system, and one that is reportedly attractive to UFOs.

THEY KNEW TOO MUCH ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS

All of the excitement and hullabaloo of the annual National UFO League Conference was over. It was late Saturday night, or one should say Sunday morning, May 30, 1982 and I had finally returned to my room at the Quality Airport Inn, Cleveland. It had been difficult to part with friends and colleagues, such as Jim Moseley, Rick Hilberg, Bob Easley, and Alan Manak, officers of the Conference, with whom I had a late dinner.

The tension of meeting dozens of my readers, all vying for my attention at the same time, and a recalcitrant slide tray which refused to work properly, were finally getting to me. For despite the long day due to a TV appearance at an unholy, early hour, I still wasn't sleepy. I watched part of an ancient movie on TV and suddenly craved coffee. But as I hurried to the motel restaurant an attendant locked the door and attached the "CLOSED" sign.

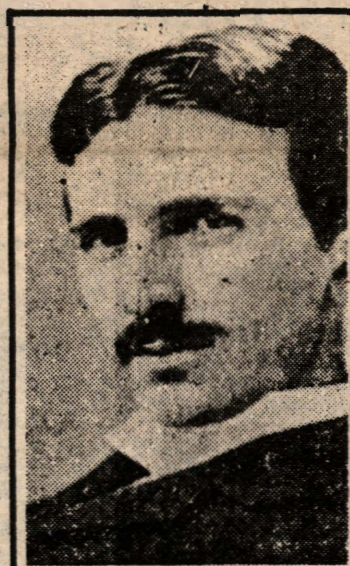

Delegates were headquartered at the Quality Inn because of special room rates, which my modest budget appreciated. I walked across the highway to the Marriott Hotel and found the coffee shop there still busy.

"Hello, Mr. Barker!" a handsome fellow of about 65 greeted me from a table and motioned an invitation. He had silvery hair, an animated suntanned face, and was impeccably dressed.

"Thank you," I responded. "I remember you. You were the fellow in the second row, and one of the few who laughed at my attempted jokes!"

"Now I'm not what you would call a UFO enthusiast," he began. "But my wife isn't along, and I was rather bored and lonely. I saw news about the UFO meeting on TV and decided to take it in out of curiosity."

My new acquaintance hadn't introduced himself when we shook hands and I hadn't asked his name, knowing that some UFO witnesses or "fans" sometimes sought anonymity. I suspected he would soon relate a sighting, but found he instead wanted to talk about Nikola Tesla.

"I doubt if this has anything to do with 'flying saucers,' but Tesla's name came up in one of the lectures. My father worked in his laboratory, and often intrigued me about inventions Tesla never developed due to his commitment of time and sparse funds to his wireless electrical system."

He paused to finish a bit of cheese cake before explaining that although his father occupied a rather obscure position in the hierarchy at the laboratory, Tesla apparently liked him, for he often took time from his frantic schedule to speak to or joke with him, sometimes even sitting down with him as both men ate their modest "brown bag" lunches.

TESLA'S STRANGE DREAM

Although his father was rather shy, Tesla must have considered him a good conversationalist, possibly because of his employee's curiosity about other people and his knack for letting them do all the talking. Perhaps Tesla sensed this quality, and felt he could unburden his mind with him without fear of being quoted.

"My recollections (my friend continued) of hearing Dad tell of these conversations give an unusual impression of Tesla, one which might be considered almost crackpottery carefully concealed beneath the surface of the pragmatic, practical inventor. Indeed it could well be that a streak of near 'insanity' ran somewhere in Tesla's brain, much the same as it does in many 'sane' people today!"

"Now here we get to at least a tenuous connection with UFOs: Tesla believed not only that other planets in our solar system were inhabited but that it was possible to communicate with them through what he termed "trance-like hypnosis." Although it is understandable that prior to the space probes of today, there was nothing to disprove the former, Tesla's practice of taking an hour, almost daily, after dinner, to attempt these mental communications certainly would not be considered 'normal' - even in this 'enlightened' day."

At the time his father was telling him of Tesla, my friend, unfortunately, was not greatly interested in science, being more involved with roadsters and teenage courtships. "I regret not listening more carefully, and especially my consigning to the junk heap a section of wood framed screen wire while sorting out Dad's property after his passing."

For that prosaic piece of junk may have held the key to one of Tesla's more "crackpot-tish" ideas. It may have been what Tesla called "The Faraday Screen" - a device for seeing into the "spirit world," or in kinder, more acceptable terms, "other dimensions."

During one of their lunches Tesla, in one of his moods of confidence, told of having a disquieting dream in which he worried about unpleasant dwellers in "alternate worlds." In the dream he held a framed square of simple window screen on which pictures of unseen worlds appeared.

"Awakening, Tesla at first laughed at the dream because the construction of the screen seemed so simple. It involved a colloidal substance into which the screen was immersed, and the primitive static electrical findings of Faraday, the father of modern electricity."

A TV TO OTHER WORLDS?

The colloidal substance, not named (Perhaps Tesla had not yet thought of a proper medium), was such that it would spread so thinly over the small square openings of the screen that very light static charges, applied to the wire by brushing a Bakelite appendage with fur, could puncture the squares of delicate film. This effect could be amplified by counter charges coming from the human body, through the hand holding the frame, so that it might be possible that even the faint waves or signals from the brain could affect it. Images were formed by the puncture of certain tiny squares of film, in a mosaic not unlike a screened photograph in a magazine or newspaper. Not only could the colloidal substance be evacuated from the squares, but made to form again, and the tendency of the colloidal medium to spread from adjacent areas and reform, thus creating the possibility of moving images!

"This is not an entirely outlandish idea," my friend explained, "for this is similar to

NIKOLA TESLA

- WIZARD OR ALCHEMIST?
- SUPER PSYCHIC?
- EXTRATERRESTRIAL BEING?

Though chosen to share the 1912 Nobel Prize in Physics with Edison, Nikola Tesla refused the award and during his life tore up royalty contracts which would have earned him millions of dollars. Tesla held more than 1200 patents and yet he is one of the most mysterious men who ever lived. Though he is not mentioned in most text books and is virtually unknown to most Americans, Tesla actually discovered Alternating Current, produced the first electric motor, the radio (he preceded Marconi by several years), the arc light, broadcasted the first television waves, and even created an earthquake that virtually rocked Manhattan in 1896. The device which shook buildings and shattered windows for miles was an apparatus so small it could be placed in a person's pocket. Later, before his passing, Tesla stated that this device was so powerful it could prevent a Third World War.

Not very much is known about this "strangeloner," as Tesla spent most of his life in total seclusion. However, those who did know him even slightly say he was not a normal human, but a real SUPERMAN, either a reincarnated master—or a spaceman with superior mental powers placed here to assist in earth's technological development. The following books are hard to come by, have been privately published, and are meant only for the sincere truth seeker.

RETURN OF THE DOVE by Margaret Storm
A personal, non technical view of Tesla written by a close friend with whom he dared to share his great metaphysical knowledge. Discusses in passionate detail where Tesla thought this "time bomb" called earth was headed, and how we can still prevent our planet from exploding. Revealed: Cosmic link with UFOs and Alien intelligence. Seven Rays of Light. Christ Forces. Spiritual Hierarchy. Masters of Ageless Wisdom. Tesla's Anti-War Machine. The Elemental Kingdom. Venusian Space Brothers. 294 5x7 pages, spiral binding; $16.95.

THE WALL OF LIGHT - NIKOLA TESLA AND THE VENUSIAN SPACE SHIP by A.H. Matthews
Today, the author of this book carries on Tesla's work near his home in Quebec, Canada. Before passing, the great genius gave Matthews a personally written account of his own life which began on a distant planet. Tesla's early life reads like a fairy tale. He was no common mortal. He led a charmed life—given up by doctors at least three times as dead, he was a young man at seventy with a brain that was super keen. Tesla said that he believed he came from Venus, and during the landing of a UFO on the author's property, the members of the ship said Tesla was a child from Venus. As hard as it may be to believe, Matthews also says he was taken on a trip to Mars and given gold rocks by his alien friends. 136 8 1/2 x 11 pages, stiff binding; $11.95.

ENIGMA FANTASTIQUE by W. Gordon Allen
Why was only a small portion of Dr. Tesla's work permitted to be used by world industry? What were the incredible secrets of mind control he demonstrated? Do mystics of science and religion use some of the same secrets of mental development? Can you train yourself and your children to use them also? Who are the world "groups in control" who have fettered the mind of man for many hundreds of years? Is their control in jeopardy today? Is the space race the key to the opening of man's minds? 197 8 1/2 x 11 pages, spiral binding; $12.95.

OVERLORDS AND OLYMPIANS by W. Gordon Allen
The wife of the president of Mexico, First Lady Carmen Romand de Lopez Portillo, recently visited New York and purchased a video tape version of this book which has been aired widely on television as "Overlords of the UFO." This book ties in Tesla's work with many of the author's "New Age" discoveries. Sections included on: The Super People, Psychic Detectives, Uri Geller, Invisibles and Alien Intelligence, Demonic Possession, The Stendek Encounters, Four Bodies of Man, Rudolph Steiner, Nutrition, Organ Energy, Tesla Spheroid - a Levitation Device, Gravitic Anomalies, Secret Brotherhoods. This volume is a bit more technical and far reaching than the others, and must be studied for hours for a full grasp. It is suggested you purchase this book after reading all the others. 184 8 1/2 x 11 pages, spiral binding; $12.95.

the way the large screen television projectors operate in a TV studio where I was interviewed."

This evidence of technical expertise strengthened my opinion that my friend was not a "crackpot." Due to my interest in theatre projection systems, I had learned that very large screen TV projectors employed a different principle from that the ordinary TV set. In the home receiver electrons bombard been much less intense in power, if it indeed involved impulses from the brain. It would also seem as if Tesla were saying that the impressions of "other realms" were first received by the human brain and then transmitted to the screen where they became visible.

"I doubt if Tesla actually constructed such a device, yet I understand that he sometimes received entire plans for inventions either from dreams a room number which I took no mental note of and explained to me:

"I'm a minor functionary in the diplomatic service and do a lot of overseas traveling. Although I'm accustomed to jet lag I often lose track of time. I just asked my assistant to call my wife and tell her I'm fine - though I doubt if she will appreciate being awakened at this hour!"

THE FRIGHTFUL FIGURE

Under the glow of his kerosene lantern, mosaic-like patterns appeared and danced about the frame. Finally they formed an octopus-like figure with moving appendages which startled him, and at the same time he heard a loud humming noise in the nearby underbrush.

"A factory of some sort was then being built about half a mile away and construction proceeded around the clock. Machinery, such as a drill or a hoist,

TESLA'S CONCEPTION OF THE EARTH/ATMOSPHERE AS A GIANT ELECTRICAL CAPACITOR

Tesla experienced strange visions. Tesla himself later wrote:

"I saw new scenes. These were at first blurred and indistinct and would flit away when I tried to concentrate my attention upon them. They gained strength and distinctness and finally assumed the concreteness of real things. I soon discovered that my best comfort was attained if I simply went on in my vision further and further getting new impressions all the time...."

Tesla first began inventing at age 17. He realized then that his visions were a precious gift, allowing him to design in his mind machines he wished to create. His inventions, according to Nidle, always worked the first time.

But the acute sensitivity which allowed Tesla to convert his mental inventions to physical ones plagued him, according to written accounts. In a 1919 biographical account he described his violent aversion to women's earrings and obsession for crystals. He was revolted at the touch of another person's hair, got a fever simply by looking at a peach and became nauseous by glancing at small squares of paper floating in a liquid.

the end of a tube, which is the "screen" that we watch, and cause rare earth element to alternately glow and go out.

The Ediphor large screen principle involves a small area covered by a colloidal substance which, under electron bombardment, loses its opacity and allows light from a powerful Xenon light source to pass through it and be focused through a lens onto a screen, in the very same manner as film is used in a movie projector or a slide in one's Carousel machine.

In Tesla's device, however, the excitation certainly would have or his subconscious. Dad got the impression that Tesla regarded the idea as trivial and of dubious practical application. However my Dad was intrigued with it and began to construct such a device after leaving employment at the laboratory during one of the many temporary closings due to lapses of financing. Apparently Tesla's business acumen did not equal his technical genius."

My companion then let out a minor expletive and motioned to a room service waiter. He wrote a note on a pad, and before he tore it off I noted he signed it, "RS"

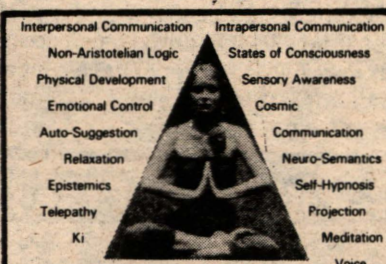

He gave the waiter

Once again on the subject of the "Faraday screen," I gathered he had reservations about his father's involvement with it, and believed part of it may have been imagined, due to emotional stress after losing a brother in a mine explosion. Nevertheless I will repeat some of his father's claims:

Following the incomplete plans conveyed by Tesla he constructed such a screen and one evening slipped away from the house to escape electrical interference and the prying eyes of neighbors. Secluding himself in a thicket, he applied the medium substance to the screen and created a static charge.

could have explained the noise, given Dad's fright. Anyhow, he decided 'not to tamper with the device' again, and put it away in the attic. It may be that he witnessed some other strange phenomena, whether imagined or real, which were even more disturbing, but this I will never know. As I have said, I was not at all interested in science at that time, and my teenage peers laughed at 'occult' subjects.

"Shortly after this period of my life I lost my father, and being the eldest of our family, assumed the task of sorting out and keeping only Dad's most valuable married the following month.

"I shall always chide myself for throwing out the framed square of rusting-screen without holding onto it until later when I developed a great interest in Tesla's inventions while serving with a radar unit during the Korean war. It would be interesting to have it examined by an electrical technician especially interested in static electricity to determine if there could be any validity at all to Dad's story."

"RS's" interest led him to examine rare records in the collection of the (now disbanded) Tesla Society. These included an employment ledger confirming that his father had indeed worked at the lab during the period claimed, with even the wages (of $12.00 per week but without deductions!) indicated.

"I've always believed," he continued, "that the 'Faraday Screen' appeared to be so simple that it might be experimentally duplicated. I distinctly remember a few details noted by Dad. Here's my pad. You may take notes if you like:"

Before mounting, the cut screen was to be about 12 inches square, though expressed in a metric figure he could not recall. It must be cemented, not nailed, into a wood frame, preferably of willow or sycamore.

Since the frame he threw away contained a rusting window screen, "RS" thought it might be difficult to obtain the identical material today, when screens are made of stainless steel or other corrosive-resistant metals, although they probably would work if they had similar conductances. A Bakelite insulator, which he inserted through the wood frame to contact the screen, had been discarded by telegraph linesmen. He used one of his wife's discarded fur pieces to excite the insulator with a static electrical charge.

"Although he was more specific, my memory serves only that he used a mixture of Vaseline and a light motor oil (such as I used during winter in my car) to create the colloidal medium into which the frame was immersed, presumably using the insulator as a handle."

My friend had not studied Faraday's theories but remembered from high school physics that the scientist invented a device referred to as the Faraday cage.

AN APPEAL TO READERS

"Nor do I have the inclination or technical expertise to work on such a device. My present role in politics makes it unwise for me to speculate publicly upon something that may only be a 'crackpot' idea or device, and that's another reason I haven't given you my name. Still, I have enough faith in my father's veracity to assume that he BELIEVED it worked. I've long been curious, and seeing you come in, wanted to talk to you about it. Maybe you could mention it in one of your newspaper articles which might elicit feedback from readers wishing to construct such a device."

I'd rather you didn't try to get back to me, but wait until I contact you later to learn of the results."

So there, dear children, you have it! I finally got to sleep, believing the idea would sound even more outlandish the next morning. But while riding back to West Virginia in associate Richard Taylor's big van, the "Faraday screen" continued to prey on my mind. In my own world, uncluttered by scientific disciplines, the device continued to sound logical.

Of course, I may have been the victim of a "leg pull," and my anonymous diplomatic friend may have gone to

(The IBEX is the anti-magnetic Puzzle/Game reviewed by Phil Wiswell in the May/June 1981 issue of GAMES MAGAZINE.)

The IBEX Puzzle/Game consists of four non-magnetic steel balls, a non-magnetic steel rod, and a powerful magnet. The IBEX comes in a royal blue pouch and plastic case with a 48-page color booklet revealing its "Secrets".

The object is to cause the non-magnetic balls and rod to hang suspended in a variety of configurations with increasing difficulty ratings. (In one effect, two balls and the rod can remain suspended for months.) Also included are game rules for 1 to 6 players. During play, the IBEX defies gravity in a way that still amazes scientists.

Will you master the IBEX or will the IBEX become your master? Unless you send $9.95 you will never truly know, will you?

PYRAMIDS

PAPERS BY BILL COX

PYRAMID GUIDE Editor,

CASSETTE TAPES BY BILL COX

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN TECHNOLOGY (Psychotronic Rediscoveries)... This paper reveals little known information about the ancient power technology of early Egyptian, Sumerian and Babylonian races. Subjects include comparisons between current physical (objective) and the venerable prephysical (subjective) sciences, modern day psychotronics being the re-emergence of ancient intuitive physics (figuratively mind over matter; mind controlling the behavior, movement, disintegration and reintegration of matter and form). Subjects cover: CO-EXISTING TECHNOLOGIES COMING TOGETHER, SOPHISTICATED INSTRUMENTATION, ACCORD BETWEEN OBJECTIVE AND SUBJECTIVE PHYSICS, (SACRED) SCIENCES, THE SACRED SCIENTIST'S METHOD, A MASTER'S INSIGHTS: UNIFYING ART, PHILOSOPHY, RELIGION & SCIENCE: THE "TET" OF INITIATION, A MODERN PSYCHOTRONIC GENERATOR, "TET" BODY ALIGNMENT: EGYPTIAN, HIEROGLYPHS AND ANCIENT PICTOGRAPHS, A LOCAL BATTERY TELEPHONE SET DIAGRAM MADE UP OF HIEROGLYPHIC SYMBOLS. (Illustrated).

RESONANCE IN THE KINGS CHAMBER... (In the Great Pyramid) The Master Frequency, Paper by Rocky McCollum and Bill Cox. The resonant musical pitch of the Great Pyramid's main vaults & passages, the astonishing tonal quality and accurately tuned chambers found in the Egyptian pyramids & tombs is thoroughly explored by Pyramidologist McCollum and writer - former professional musician, Cox.

FORM ENERGY, Rediscovering an Ancient Science... This paper by Bill Cox, was first given at a St. Petersburg, Florida, Parascience Conference in 1976, later expanded and updated for presentation at the U.S. Psychotronics Ass'n Conference August 19, 1977. It is based upon more than 20 years of research and experimentation by the late, and internationally known Dowsing Master and Psychic, Verne L. Cameron, including six years of research and compilation by the author, and a thorough investigation of the source, behavior and potential uses of pyramid, cone and other geometric shapes, such as cylinders, cubes, spheres, hemispheres, tetrahedrons etc.

SENSING: TOUCHING AT A DISTANCE

(Mind Energies and their Remote Control)... The subjects of this paper, will be of particular interest to Dowsers, Psychometrists and other questers of information beyond the limitations of one's so-called 5 senses (there are more than 30). Highlights include: Higher Sense Perceptions, Science Ignoring the Unknown: Two-dimensional Apprehension in a 3-dimensional World: Awareness, a function of Consciousness, ESP, a Misnomer: Various Modes of Cognition 1. Clairvoyance (extended sight); 2. Clairaudience (extended hearing); 3. Claircension (extended sense of smell); 4. Clairgustation (extended sense of taste) and 5. Clairsentience (feeling or touching at a distance).

EGYPTIAN & FORM ENERGY HEAD-DRESS OF THE ANCIENTS... This fully illustrated paper shows the seven major basic styles of head coverings worn by early Egyptian royalty, high priests and initiates. Numerous combinations and variations of the "original seven" are also described and shown; their energy and initiatic principles revealed. Functional head coverings of other civilizations and tribes are also presented in illustrated form.

All Papers @ $2.00 each P.p.d. in the U.S.A. (foreign, add 50¢ for each Paper). A $2.00 discount is offered, when ALL 5 Papers are purchased at one time, that is, $8.00 full price for all five.

INTUITION VS. INTELLECT... An exploration of how the Subjective (Intuitive) and Objective (Intellectual/Sensate) mind functions can coordinate, to produce heightened awareness, clairvoyance, and other Extended Sense Perceptions. The various aspects of Human Thinking (Conscious, Subconscious, Collective Unconsciousness and Super conscious levels of mind are pursued, along with insights given on Subliminal and Supraliminal states, enabling one to safely coordinate and express between the Higher (Knowing) and Lower (Thinking) mind.

ANCIENT ENERGY INITIATIONS AND MAGIC (two tapes)... The subject of early Egyptian initiatic ceremonies and their purpose is presented here: A new look at wall paintings, petroglyphs, monuments and historic hieroglyphs, beyond ordinary religious, ceremonial and symbolic definitions given by Egyptologists.

FORM ENERGY (side 1) and WORLD PYRAMIDS IN ANCIENT AND MODERN TIMES (side 2)... For Form Energy cassette review, see description of the paper given by B.C. in this brochure. WORLD PYRAMIDS... a comprehensive analysis is presented suggesting that pyramid belts around the earth (30 degrees north and south latitude) are part of a possible ancient pyramid grid system networking our planet.

FORM ENERGY-A NEW SCALE OF VIBRATIONS... One of several lectures given by B.C. expanding upon written information presented in the paper of the title described elsewhere in this brochure.

SECRETS OF EGYPTIAN PYRAMIDS... Just what the title implies. Little known mysteries rediscovered as a result of Cox's scholarly Egyptian investigations with Mark Singer's regular expeditionary treks to the Great Pyramids, Sphinx and ancient sites in North Africa. Several new finds, re-interpretations of data and rediscoveries are presented in this "recorded live" tape session.

SHAMBALLA... The mystical, magical, mysterious legendary city of Avatars, Adepts and Ascending Masters is revealed in great detail in this tape lecture. Shamballa, its purpose, possible location in the Gobi Desert; meaning, past, present, and future implications are carefully examined.

PYRAMID FORM PRODUCES SUPERPLANTS... (2 cassette tapes) Bill Cox interviews Gilbert "Gib" Milne, Toronto, Canada, amateur horticulturist who has produced abundant and convincing evidence of his outstanding, innovative and successful pyramid-form energized, plant experiments. Nature lovers, greenhouse farmers, florists and green-thumb gardeners will be inspired by the enthusiastic explanations of Gib Milne, responding to questions asked by B.C. Proof of Pyramid Power is most evident in form and plant tests; moreover, Gib's added Electroculture and Acupuncture techniques bring new dimensions to this area of study and experimentation.

bed chuckling at my credulity. And when one questions an idea too carefully one can come up with all sorts of doubts. If it were a hoax, the initials "RS" on the note (which he took no pains to hide from view), might have represented a subtle clue to my eventual unravelling of the joke. They were the same as those of the infamous R. E. Straith, an alleged U.S. State Department employee who, in 1958, wrote a spurious letter to famous contactee George Adamski, on official stationery, endorsing his claims.

Or could "RS" have been an intelligence agent covering the conference and who fabricated the tale, hoping I might reveal similar ideas I had heard elsewhere? The "invention" contained some elements of "mind control" being speculated about by

UFOlogists. As to Men In Black, he DID wear a dark, charcoal-gray suit -- but he was not sinister-looking, as those notorious operatives have been desided. Still, I'd very much like to BELIEVE the tale. Certainly, among UFO REVIEW's huge readership, there must be those both sharing my credulity and having the technical expertise to attempt to construct a "Faraday screen." If I am correct, perhaps I'll hear from such persons, and I'm certain Editor Beckley will be happy to publish these ideas or results. Readers may write me: Gray Barker, Box D, Jane Lew, WV 26378, and I'll keep all such correspondence in a special file in view of writing another column about it. But please don't ask me for more information. I was able to take very few notes during the conversation and I've told everything I can remember. ■

Europe.
Based upon his own calculations, Negri feels that the areas around Bridgeport, Calif.'s Mono Lake and Mariposa, located near Yosemite National Park, will be the hardest hit with tremors. "Dec. 26th may see the sinking of large land masses with more quakes on Dec.30th." Negri sees the planets as being "the executioner that triggers universal law," and he thinks that Atlantis may rise above sea level the beginning part of next year. "After all when something sinks something has to come up," he conjectures, adding, "Earth is now going through a cleansing period that will last for a while."

Early in 1982 Negri met with a representative of Scotland Yard who took his predictions seriously. "I told him about the alignment and I advised him to tell Margaret Thatcher that there would be devastating floods that would put areas around London under water. I pointed out that Nostradamus predicted such an event and suggested the British government make plans to evacuate people to Australia before the worst happens." Negri also believes that the White House should have a plan to evacuate the likes of such cities as Fresno, San Francisco and Los Angeles, which would save many lives.

Due to the upcoming position of the planets in this solar system, Negri concludes that such earth changes may continue for awhile before things start to settle down again. ■ four feet tall, had long hair and was wearing brilliant clothes. He said that soon there was a whole score of these beings who were all moving about at the same time. He remembered that when I had extended my hand, my arm cut right through one of these beings. He said that right over us, very close, was a large triangular shaped ship with colored lights on top. Luis was the only one who saw all of this. The rest of us only saw the strong light which moved around in diverse directions at the summit of Warm Water Falls."

Interestingly enough, reporter Zaluar concludes his story by saying that the group broke camp around 2 o'clock and descended to the base of the mountain. The first house they passed happened to belong to a farmer who had been up all night and was in his pajamas. "What happened up there on the mountain?" he wanted to know. "Why?" responded the reporter. "Because my heart was pounding, I felt ill and I had a premonition that something was happening up there!" At the time he had no way of knowing just how right his psychic premonition had been.

As late as June sightings were still being made in the area. One rancher, Francisco Pereira Duarte, a 65 year old father of two and grandfather of seven, said it was approaching dusk and he was returning home carrying a sack of feed, when in front of his ranch he saw a very luminous object. It changed colors several times and the light from it was so brilliant that it hurt his eyes. He was frightened but did not run away. Instead he followed the direction of the light which he thought looked like a "luminous cart." Repeatedly the "cart" would accelerate to incredible speeds and would disappear only to reappear somewhere else in the heavens. To him, it was an awesome sight.

At this time the Brazilian group GOU plans further work in the area. They hope to eventually come up with conclusive documentation that the sightings around Colonia are valid ones. Like their American UFOlogical counterparts they are beginning to see that more than a pure scientific background is necessary when investigating this enigma. It takes a variety of researchers versed in many different areas, including that of the psychic and parapsychologist. Brazil, it would seem, has recently paid host to visits from the Space Brothers, and there is every reason to believe that they will return in the near future. ■ wave would involve a lot more people and the third wave would see more than a billion people spirited away to another home in space."

Michael says that this is the "rapture" that is talked about in the Bible. He also says that those who are not removed will simply be reincarnated on another planet, "since, after all there is no real death anyway."

As he told his story, Michael's attractive wife sat by his side nodding her head in total agreement. "I know these things are true because I've experienced many of the same things myself," insisted Aurora who is a designer of New Age, spacey, fashions, and also claims to be from another planet having been brought, into her mother's womb by friendly space beings. ■ is not always for our individual benefit. It is, I think, as much for their general knowledge as well as for our enlightenment. They can't, it seems, interfere in any way in the evolution of our planet. They have to let people work things out for themselves to be able to evolve to their level."

The years 1977 and '78 proved to be peak sighting years for Marc. "I must have had about ten different sightings. I would see something streak across the sky that was not a plane. Many of the people I talked with also saw these things. But by 1979 the sightings had pretty much died down."

Despite the lack of multiple sightings in 1979, Marc and his friends did observe a truly incredible sight which has never been duplicated before or since.

"It was much more colorful, much different from any of the other craft we'd seen before. This was a diamond-shaped craft which gave the impression of being three dimensional. When it traveled, it gave off all the colors of the spectrum. One of my psychic friends said that it was not a constructed craft like we were used to seeing, but actually a being onto itself that is capable of traveling through space."

And while Marc sadly notes that his encounters with UFOs have diminished since 1980, this is not to say that he hasn't progressed even deeper into the meaning of the phenomenon.

"I'm particularly into quartz crystals. I wear one most of the time. Its been tuned to my personal frequency by Marcel Vogel a scientist for IBM and a researcher of long standing into the paranormal. Marcel cuts crystals and tunes them to certain frequencies to be used for healing and for general well being. Quartz is related to human consciousness more than any other mineral. It's tuned to our frequency, and to a degree to our thought. Marcel is among those who believe that in the future quartz will be used at the heart of our computer systems. It has been stated that you will be able to program a computer, not by putting a punchcard in, but by mentally projecting your thoughts to the quartz crystal and having it program the computer in such a way that you are linking your thoughts to it. Marcel says that when cutting crystals you have to be able to ground yourself. He once got an electrical shock while cutting a crystal. It just about knocked him out."

Marc continues to talk about crystals, especially how they are related to the late wizard Nicola Tesla.

"Everyone knows that quartz gives off a small electrical charge - but that's very minimal. But, back at the beginning of this century Nicola, who was a great inventor and a visionary, invented energy systems that had quartz crystals at the heart that would actually draw in the energy forces that are around the planet or out of the atmosphere and transform it into a form of electricity. It was a more ethereal form of electricity, that was like water that seeks its own level. Thomas Edison stole a lot of the ideas from Nicola Tesla who up until recently was generally discredited."

"What happened to Tesla was that the Rockefellers of the world were really out to get him, because he was offering free energy to the world, while they were offering energy for a price in the form of oil. Tesla had come over from Europe to give all his ideas to the United States because he believed it was the New Age center of the world. He died a broken man. I think this is typical in the U.S. which is run by a small group of powerful businessmen - lets call them Illuminati - who are keeping the world in stagnation."

Marc told me that he is at this moment in touch with some people in California who claim to be in communication with the spirit of Tesla. "They are supposedly recreating some of the devices which Tesla built and have been lost to the world since his passing. Tesla built devices by visualizing them first before constructing them piece by piece. He would start by visualizing the whole apparatus functioning, then he would set about making all of the parts which would fit together."

Several years ago while visiting a dwelling in Ohio which has a reputation for being haunted, I had the opportunity to verify first-hand the fact that strange things seem to attach themselves to Marc Gould, but let him tell about the incident in question.

"Franklyn Castle is the most documented haunted place in Ohio. Hal Holbrook spent time there doing psychic research. He even got ectoplasm in photos taken in several of the rooms. I remember when we went up to the fourth floor. There was a room that seemed to have been used once as a ballroom. Casper and I both walked away from the rest of the group to the corner of this room and we heard a loud scream. No one else in the entire room heard it. We asked the girl who was showing us the house about the scream and she said that back in the twenties a servant girl had hung herself in that room. Later on her body had been walled up in there. Later as we were about to take our leave, one of the girls who was with us who was a bit sensitive said that there was a spirit hanging around at the top of the stairs. I didn't see anything myself, but I went up to where she indicated the spirit was, and she said it was right opposite my left shoulder. I put my hand right where she said it was and it was ice cold in that spot."

A while later, Marc went back to the house with a group of people and brought with him a tape recorder and cameras to do some time-lapse photography. "I did a series of twenty photos, but nothing came out on the film. It was totally blank and there was no reason for it. We also left the tape recorder running when we weren't in the room. Nothing came out on the reel to reel, but we did a cassette in the master bedroom which is where most of the emanations come from. I put the cassette player in the closet and left the room and came back an hour later to listen to the tape. First, there was some tapping sounds and then there seemed to be something else going on, but we couldn't tell what it was. It seemed to be too slow, so we speeded the tape up real fast. When we played it backwards we heard a howling animal-like human voice. The owner of the house, even though he had experiences himself, was flabbergasted by the recording. A lot of people have died in this place I've been told. It was a Nazi party headquarters at one time. Just in the way it was built, it is not of a particularly high nature."

So ends Marc's story - his encounters with the spirits of space and the spirits of our earthly plane. By a careful review of his experiences it may be possible to get a deeper insight in the realm of UFOs and the paranormal. Something tells me he hasn't seen his last flying saucer!

ONE OF OUR GENERALS IS MISSING

William Westmoreland

For several hours recently, authorities in Texas had posted an all-points bulletin when a story began to circulate that 4-star Gen. William C. Westmoreland was missing. According to published accounts, a woman walked into a police station in a suburb of El Paso and demanded to speak with the officer in charge. After identifying herself as an associate of Gen. Westmoreland she told how they had been riding in separate cars when suddenly, out of the blue, Westmoreland's vehicle was struck by a beam of light and he was gone - taken on board a UFO!

Thinking that "foul play" might have been involved a drastic nighttime search was conducted to locate the General who came to national attention during the Viet Nam conflict. Yet, try as they might, even the Pentagon could not find Westmoreland - it was as if he had vanished from the face of the earth.

The following morning, however, the story had changed. The press was told that the woman's story had been checked out and that she had fabricated the entire tale. She had supposedly been detained overnight and was on her way to a mental hospital for observation early in the A.M.

Though it is impossible to know for sure the circumstances surrounding this rather off-beat news item (unlike Major Keyhoe we don't have spies in the military), we were immediately reminded of the time the late President Eisenhower was said to have visited Edwards Air Force Base to witness a landed UFO, and later the media was told he was actually getting a tooth pulled by a dentist in nearby Palm Springs. Later, evidence was dug up that tended to verify this sensational story.

UFO REVIEW has heard rumors that the woman mentioned in this wire service story was really Gen. Westmoreland's wife, which would certainly give the entire affair a new lease on life. Also, we can't help but repeat the story that this was the General's second abduction - that he had been taken before while on duty in Viet Nam. Similarly, why was Gen. McArthur so certain the next world war would be an interplanetary one? And why, in front of congress, did Admiral Hyman Rickover state: "We can go to church every Sunday and pray, but the Lord has many demands made on Him from many other worlds, and in the eyes of the Lord we are not the most important thing in the universe." Indeed, military officials seem keenly aware of what's going on up above.

Furthermore, when we posed the question of Gen. Westmoreland's disappearance to one of our UFO contacts, the following information was channeled from "Monka of Mars."

"Do you miss him?" Monka quizzed. "We were not quite sure what to do with him... We have been trying to change his mind, but he is a stubborn old goat. Do you know, when he was up here he wouldn't even remove his boots. All he wanted was to give us his rank and serial number. What a fool. We returned him promptly. But, we know where he is and he's still shaking in his boots. We're not warlords, but something has to be done (about the situation on earth)... I'm sure he's back home now polishing his brass buttons and dusting off his stripes. Even at his advanced age, he would still like to get out there and command the troops. But, he's had his day, and Monka and the rest of the Ashtar Command will have their day soon enough."

Hear that General?

MODERN MIRACLES ARE TAKING PLACE ALL OVER THE WORLD—THE SON OF GOD IS RETURNING IN YOUR LIFETIME!

The above photo may seem at first like an ink-blot test, but if you study it carefully you will be able to see quite clearly the face of Jesus, his long hair, beard and white robe. This amazing photo was taken during the icy cold winter just before the outbreak of the Korean War by a missionary who was being forced to flee the country as his life was in grave danger. As he was about to close his mission, he received a mental impression to take a picture of a nearby snowbank. When he returned to the U.S. and developed his film this is what came out.

Miracles and signs are happening all around us. GOD IS NOT DEAD! He is very much alive and promises once again to send his son to earth. His power and glory is always present!

SPACE BROTHERS SET UP 'MYSTERY ZONE' IN BRAZIL

Investigators have long marveled over the extent and variety of UFO activity that has made Brazil the South American capitol of the flying saucer world. So many cases have transpired in Brazil over the years that it would take an article -- if not a full length book -- to do the subject justice. Just as an example, any researcher worth his salt would have to mention, at least in passing, the following incidents:

- The abduction - and subsequent seduction - of Antonio Villas-Boas, who apparently had sexual relations with a full blooded alien space woman.

- An aerial "attack" made on Fort Itaipu, a military base, in which two sentries were badly burned and all the lights went out after a UFO flew over the installation.

- The explosion of a disk-shaped device over the coastal town of Ubatuba in which fragments of the destroyed craft were collected and analyzed; proving to be the best "physical evidence" case on record to date.

- And last, but not least, a close encounter at sea, in which a Saturn-shaped craft was photographed from the deck of the Brazilian Navy training ship Almirante Saldanha just off the coast of Trindade Island, resulting in a controversy that has lasted to this day.

Today, as everywhere else, UFO reports have persisted and even increased in number. In addition to the usual number of confrontations with aliens, actual communication (usually of a telepathic nature) also seems to have broken out, keeping up with patterns set in the rest of the world.

One of the more active groups keeping track of all UFOlogical action is headquartered in Colonia. The GOPU (short for Grupo Operacional de Investigações OVNI) is made up of students and professional people, including professors of physics and astronomy. Interestingly, they also are assisted by psychics and those whose backgrounds lay in the area of parapsychology.

As far as anyone can recall, the first inkling of anything unusual happening in San Fidelis was about ten years ago. A farmer was awakened at around 4 A.M. by a bright light which paraded across the sky and was said to have resembled a hat. San Fidelis is located in district 40, about 200 kilometers from Rio de Janeiro, and is mainly a rural area with a population of slightly over 5,000. The locals are hard working ranchers and farmers who don't have time for nonsense. They work from dawn to dusk to feed their families and UFOs are far from their mind.

BAFFLED

During December, 1981, investigators from GOPU found themselves camping out in this community. They had come at the request of residents who were baffled and admittedly frightened by an event which had transpired toward dawn. The heavens were filled with a brilliant glow and suddenly there was a violent explosion that rocked the area. Many thought that an airliner had crashed in the mountains just outside of town. A rescue party was quickly organized but they could find no signs of a wreck. But what they did discover puzzled them immensely. The ground in one particular area was flattened out and was "bald," all the vegetation having disappeared. The organization got together all the witnesses they could find and interviewed them at length. They were amazed to learn that UFO reports in the area were previously unknown. Ten years ago, as an example, at about 4 A.M. on a hot summer morning a 65 year old farmer, Aristao de Sousa, left his home to go to work when he observed a bright colored light moving along at a rather high rate of speed. He said the object resembled a "hat" and its colors changed several times during the period it was visible.

Coming to the conclusion that something "mysterious" was happening in the area the GOPU called in a local psychic who has been able to demonstrate paranormal powers since he was a child. Supposedly, Hilario Pinto Machado has predicted earthquakes and foresaw the tragic death of the president, Castelo Branco. He even states that he was able to cure his dog of rabies after the local vet had said it would be impossible to treat the animal. Hilario, so the story goes, had fallen asleep deeply depressed over having to kill his pet. In the dream he brought the dog medication from the drug store. The dog got well the very next day and still lives with the psychic.

Machado went into a light trance in front of the team of investigators and started to channel a space being by the name of Guivizan who claimed to be the commander of the space fleet responsible for the UFO activity in this area. When questioned about the event they had been called in to research, Guivizan claimed they had cleared the ground of vegetation by using ultrasound. During their encampment near the site, they requested through the UFO contactee, that the Space Brothers put on a demonstration, so that they could confirm that the messages were valid ones.

After much insistence, Guivizan replied: "So you are skeptical and want to see our craft? Well then, here it is!" Moments later, everyone present saw a "star" approaching rapidly. It was illuminated in blues and greens and orange. The UFO did a strange sort of dance which included bobbing up and down. Members of the GOPU rushed to their cars to fetch their photographic equipment, but the peculiar object vanished before they could set up their equipment.

THE INVESTIGATION

In March, 1982, the group returned to this rather isolated spot in order to conduct further investigations. Among the things that their research showed was that the area was full of minerals. Several
